Sure, St. Pat's Was a Great Day in Early Menlo

(Mrs. Edna Crane-Burchfield, a resident here since 1896 who retired in 1958 after serving for 24 years as organist at the Church of the Nativity, this week recalls for Recorder readers some of the details of St. Patrick's day observances here, during a time when the community was still a village hearkening back to closer ties than it has now to Ireland, from which many of its pioneers came.

By EDNA CRANE-BURCHFIELD

In a town like Menlo Park, settled by Irishmen and named for a place in County Galway, it was only natural that St. Patrick's Day should be well observed.

And it was, too, from before the turn of the century until World War II, when the community started to lose its character as a little village.

Of course, the farther one goes back in time the more important, relatively, community-wide "parties" and pageants become. At the turn of the century, social and dramatic affairs sponsored by the various churches were about the only entertainment locally available—with the exception of travelling players and minstrel shows, which appeared from time to time.

I can remember some of the earlier St. Patrick's day affairs.

Before the Church of the Nativity's parish hall was built, after 1900, the St. Patrick's day affairs were all held at Triumph Hall, which was situated on the east side of El Camino Real, a short distance north of Oak Grove avenue.

Usually the affair would feature an Irish melodrama, with variety numbers and solos thrown in, and concluding with dancing.

There would be singing, dancing, "barbershop quartets," and a variety of solos.

I can remember some of the performers, too. Billy Casey who was a member of the generation ahead of mine, and the late Phil Blanchard were among the most popular vocalists and there was a family named Cox, which had several daughters who performed musical numbers in harmony too.

The plays we had were usually three-act affairs featuring a stalwart hero, a sweet colleen and a sneaky Englishman who always got his just deserts.

Howard Crane, Dave Roach, Augustin McCullough, Joe Kelly and James Fitzgerald played male juvenile lead parts and I, Frances Casey and Margaret Kelly Hanley usually shared the chores as female juveniles.

Later on, after Nativity Hall was built, Father Jerome Hannigan became the priest here and, being a fine musician himself, he encouraged even more musical programs.

He wasn't in charge at the time the hall was built, however; that honor fell to Father William Lyons.

Father Lyons was proud of the new hall and one time, when Archbishop Patrick William Riordan was visiting at St. Patrick's seminary he persuaded the Archbishop to come and have a look at the new parish hall

The Archbishop came and had a look and then commented, "All it needs is a sign across the front that says 'William Lyons, Hay and Grain'."

It should be mentioned that construction of the seminary here was one of the pet projects of Archbishop Riordan, who was of Irish extraction himself and who knew of the local traditions.

Anyhow, as the years went by the plays and variety shows continued and younger people including our present city attorney, James O'Keefe, found themselves acting in them.

The last of the plays, as I've said, was given before World War II. But it was a different sort of community then, being small enough so that everybody in town could come

They might not be as big as some of the groups that can be gotten together here today, but we had good crowds, always.

City, Developer Argue Park Preparation Speed

Menlo Park City Councilmen Tuesday night disregarded the old adage about the gift horse when they checked a proposal to give the city a Stanford Hills subdivision park site and found it partially wanting.

They found no fault with developer Harry Arnold's plan to deed the two-acre site to the city, including earth fill and some tree planting, and also contribute plans for developing the park drawn up by landscape architect Douglas Bayliss.

But his request that the city speed up park development from the approximately eight years it might take to complete under present budgeting won favor only from Councilman Michael Belangie.

LAWSON HAS QUESTION

Mayor William R. Lawson said he didn't know what interpretation might be placed on this by others.

"They might say 'You developed a private park out there for Harry Arnold, now how about me'?" Lawson said.

Belangie said that that the value of the land and the need for park sites played a part in his thinking.

"I think we ought to look beyond that kind of situation," he said referring to the mayor's statement. "Perhaps that's why I favor this proposal."

Councilman Ira Bonde, the only other council member present at the study meeting, also indicated the speedup proposal wasn't too acceptable to him.

"There is a scarcity of park land now," Bonde noted. "Any 'greenbelting' we can get ought to be gotten, although this timing proposal certainly puts a crimp in it."

MORE NEGOTIATION

Lawson asked that Arnold, who is president of Peninsula Pacific Construction Co., sit down with City Manager John R. Johnson and discuss ways and means of coming to an agreement.

"I'm sure we would like to see a nice park out there," the mayor said.

As designed by Bayliss, the "ornamental" park would not include recreational facilities. It would feature lawn, trees, flowers, shrubs and a rose garden. A central grassed area could be possibly used as an amphitheatre site or as a play area for children. There would be benches along the park paths, too.

Arnold said his company would turn the land over to the city in condition for development, and said he would also contribute 25 six-year-old oak trees "to get this rolling." The site also has a storm sewer and water mains he said.

The developer also noted that he expects to be coming back before the council with plans for the second unit of the Stanford Hills development next year "across the street" from the park site, which is at Sand Hill road and Jordan boulevard.

Johnson said the city had budgeted $2500 for the site in 1960-61. Under this kind of budgeting, a period of eight years might be needed to develop it fully, he indicated later.

Election Panel Formed

A campaign committee for the re-election of Mayor William R. Lawson and Councilman Vaile S. Andrus has been formed here it was announced in the wake of an organization meeting Sunday.

Joseph B. Kelly has been designated chairman of the organization, which will coordinate publicity, advertising and speaking engagements for the two incumbent candidates.

The incumbents, running on the basis of the council's record over the past several years, have adopted as their slogan, "For Continued Good Government in Menlo Park."

Former city councilman George Ford has been designated treasurer for the campaign; Art Stadler is in charge of advertising and publicity.

Other members of the committee include Via Garabedian, Owen Davidson, J. R. Chaffet, J. B. Violetti, Oscar Olson and Floyd Beach.

There are presently three candidates for two council positions on which the city's voters will cast ballots April 12. Third candidate is Arthur Treadwell of 725 Regal court, a former St. Helena city councilman who is currently a security officer with Stanford Research Institute.

"We feel that the two incumbents deserve a strong endorsement from the voters, not only because of the record of excellent government developed here over the past several years, but because their experience makes them valuable men for the future," Kelly observed.

He asked that groups wishing to hear either of the incumbents discuss current or future city problems contact him, in order that a schedule of speaking engagements can be worked up for the candidates should demand justify it.

Police Station Work Begins

Officers Occupy Temporary Unit

Representatives of the Mid-County Construction Co., contractors who will build the permanent Menlo Park police station, were "on the ground" yesterday.

Actual turn of first earth for the new building was to take place either today or tomorrow; yesterday, the contractor was arranging for telephone lines and for fencing around the job site.

Meanwhile, Police Chief George Potter and Inspector William Kieler Tuesday were removed from their former offices to the former Girl Scout house which has been furnished for their occupancy.

The end of the old police station, which used to be occupied by them, must be sawed off to make room for the new building.

As work began at the site, it was revealed that a reversal in federal land policy, brought about by Menlo Park complaints, may have saved the city as much as $10,000.

City councilmen had been shocked to learn last week that the General Services Administration had pitched them a curve ball on releasing the site from the original recreation and park use stipulated when the city bought the former Army hospital land over 10 years ago.

The government had given the city a discount because of the recreational land use stipulation. When the city obtained release of the library site, payment of the difference between the original price and regular value of the land was based on the price of land at the time of original sale. This was several hundred dollars.

But this time, GSA wanted the difference between the original discount price and current land value. As near as City Manager John R. Johnson can now figure the difference could reach as high as $10,000.

Hail to the Chief . . .

. . . When Police Chief George Potter and Inspector William Kieler this week moved into temporary offices in the former Girl Scout "Hattli" which they've taken over, they were greeted by members of Mariner Scout Ship 9, who presented a Girl Scout calendar and an official key to the building which the officers will occupy during construction of their new police station. The girls were Intermediate-grade Scouts at the time the small meeting building was constructed for them by the Menlo Park Lions club.

Top Students at Ravenswood In Atom Study

Picked elementary and junior high school students of the Ravenswood School District will hear about atoms this week from a man who knows atoms intimately.

About 150 students will meet at Stanford Friday, March 18, for a lecture from Physics Professor Walter E. Meyerhof, whose low-energy studies of atomic structure are well known in this field. The invited students are from "fast learner" groups in the fourth to eighth grades.

Dr. Meyerhof will speak at 1:15 p.m. in Room 100 of the Physics lecture hall on the Stanford campus. Other interested persons also may attend.

Council Eyes School Site Drain Problem

Storm water problems along Alameda de las Pulgas will become increasingly bad when development of two school sites off Altschul avenue is completed, City Engineer Ed Smith told city councilmen at Tuesday night's study session.

Smith recommended, and the Council concurred, that the storm drainage problem should be presented to the county for opinion on formation of a drainage district. Altschul avenue is the current city-county boundary in the area.

Much more water can be expected to flow off the school sites when they are covered with buildings and play area. When this reaches Alameda de las Pulgas a block downgrade, the ditch there "won't be able to handle it," Mayor William R. Lawson observed.

The sites of La Entrada school and an unnamed parochial school are located on Altschul avenue between Avy avenue and Clayton drive.

Robert Gray, New City Planner, Begins Briefings with Staff

Robert Gray, Menlo Park's new city planner, arrived here yesterday and was being briefed by other qualified members of the city staff, City Manager John Johnson reported.

The new planner, from Auburn, was to work through a schedule of preliminaries with Johnson, City Building Inspector James Steiger and City Administrative Assistant Michael Bedwell, before actually taking over the reins of the city's planning official.

He will also serve as secretary of the planning commission, a job held on a temporary basis by Bedwell since the resignation of the city's former planner last December.

Winners to Date:

Search Today's Issue—More Lucky Star Prizes in Store

Seventh group of Lucky Star winners — whose names are printed somewhere in this issue — today brings to 35 the number of local area residents who have become eligible for one o fthose Lucky Star "evenings out."

Each of this week's five winners, upon calling and identifying himself at the Recorder office, 6;0 Roble avenue, Menlo Park, will receive two free passes to the Park Theater, two tickets for a free pancake dinner at Ken's House of Pancakes and three silver dollars.

Now being featured at the Park Theater is the Goldwyn production of "Porgy and Bess" starring Pearl Bailey, Dorothy Dandridge, Sammy Davis Jr. and Sidney Poitier.

As usual, names of all of the week's five winners are printed somewhere in the pages of this issue of your local paper, each one beside a Lucky Star. They may be among the Want Ads, among the display advertising or scattered through the news columns.

So look carefully; you may find YOUR Lucky Star shining this week!

If you are not a subscriber to the Menlo Park Recorder and have not already listed your name — completely without cost or obligation — to be eligible to win, do so today!

Simply fill out the coupon contained in an advertisement explaining the Lucky Star program; you'll find it elsewhere in this issue. Then mail or bring it to the Recorder office.

Names of Recorder subscribers already are in the Lucky Star list; they need not list themselves again.

School Heads In New District Office

Menlo Park school district administrators and staff personnel finally got into their new headquarters building at 555 Glenwood avenue and, although they find it has a lot less space than the old Central school offices, it's a lot better place to work in.

John Richert said that although, as of early this week, people were still putting things away and otherwise organizing them after the big move over the weekend, the convenience of the new office is already being reflected in the saving of a lot of steps and in the reduction of noise.

The building was designed around a large, central room which allows great flexibility in the allocation of space for various functions.

So far, he said, no inconveniences have been noticed and all mechanical and electrical items in the building appear to be functioning properly.

The school board met in the building for the first time, officially, on Tuesday night.

School Building Slowed by Rain

Rain during January and February resulted in some delays in the Menlo Park School District's building schedule, but all construction projects now underway are still scheduled to be completed before the end of the school year.

School district trustees this week granted extensions of time for the three construction projects remaining to be completed, as parts of the district's three-quarters-of-a-million dollar building program.

Most seriously affected job was the Laurel school job, work on which was delayed sufficiently to require an extension of the contract time by 22 days.

From Firemen:

Annual Reminder: Outdoor Fire Permits Must Be Renewed

Outdoor burning permits are renewable as of April 1 and new ones are now available at the six stations of the Menlo Park Fire District, Chief George Carter said this week.

He pointed out that outdoor fires are illegal, unless authorized by such permits.

"The reason April 1 is the date for renewal of permits is that it usually marks the start of the season when people start their outdoor burning of garden rubbish, and it's only a few short weeks before the grass fire season can be expected to start," he explained.

The firemen issue permits at the stations only. This is to encourage residents to get acquainted, and also gives the firemen a chance to give some advice along with the permits. The latter are free.

Burning must be confined to the hours from 6 a.m. to noon and no burning is allowed either on Monday or during periods of high wind, Chief Carter went on to say.

The provision against Monday burning is because that's the traditional "wash day" of housewives and the firemen cooperate by trying to keep the soot level down.

Outdoor burning permits are available at the stations during regular business hours.

The stations are situated at 300 Middlefield road and 700 Oak Grove avenue in Menlo Park; 32 Almendral avenue in Atherton; 4101 Fair Oaks avenue in North Fair Oaks; 2290 University avenue in East Palo Alto and 3322 Alameda de las Pulgas in the University Heights area.

BUILDING ACCEPTED

Encinal School District's new athletic equipment building—variously described as "the ball room" or "the ski hut' this week was accepted by the district's board of trustees.

'Book Fair' Schedule Is Announced

To benefit the Menlo Park Library, Friends of the Library are planning their first "book fair," to be held Friday and Saturday, May 27 and 28, on the library grounds.

Mrs. Roy Seagraves, book fair chairman, is appealing to all area residents who use the library and who wish to support the benefit sale to donate books of all kinds, including paperbacks.

"Already, more than 1000 books have been received for the fair," she said, "but we will need at least 10,000 volumes to make the sale a good one."

Mrs. Ellis, a native of New Jersey, has been living in Atherton for six years. She is happily married and the mother of two sons. Mrs. Ellis is also a member of the Menertons, an alumnus of the Newcomers.

Window Display Really Drew

A window display here last week proved so attractive that even the burglars were compelled to pay attention. They got $95 for their pains, too.

The eye-stopper was put up in the window of Vogue, women's dress shop at 706 Santa Cruz avenue. The display featured $5 bills—19 of them—because that was the key amount in a sales event being put on at the store.

Some time between 2 a.m. and 2:20 a.m. Saturday, police said, persons unknown broke a window in the back door of the store, entered, snatched the money being used in the display, and departed.

Easter Seal Campaign Opening Here

San Mateo County's Easter Seal drive gets under way today—St. Patrick's day—with 118,000 sets of Easter Seals in the mail, one set to every home in the county.

It is hoped to raise $60,000 from the sale of the Seals to support the work of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of San Mateo county. The organization operates the Rehabilitation and Research Center at 1764 Marco Polo way, Burlingame, including the sheltered workshop.

Frank Draeger and St. George Lafitte, co-chairmen for Menlo Park in the drive urged local residents to send in their checks as soon as possible after the seals are received to insure a high return for Menlo Park. "This is a drive where you can see the work and benefits to the handicapped every day of the year right here at home," Draeger and Lafitte declared, "and it deserves all-out support from citizens of the Menlo Park area."

Salvation Army Names Area Head

Samuel B. Hepburn, area representative for the Salvation Army, announced today that Mrs. I. M. Ellis of Atherton, had accepted the position as Atherton chairman of the Salvation Army's 1960 annual appeal for funds campaign.

Mrs. Ellis is no novice in the fundraising field as she has acted as co-chairman for her area for the Red Cross as well as having been active in the United Crusade.

Things Turn Up:

Police Depatment a Good Place to Look for Lost Articles

Every once in a while, the police department's "lost and found" drawer takes on a slight bulge.

Many people don't think of the police department as a logical place to go after they have lost an item of value on the street or in some other public place, according to Chief George Potter.

But the fact is that there are still a lot of honest people around and, when they find something, they turn it in to a public agency.

The police themselves try to find the owners but sometimes that's impossible. In such cases, the item of value may be given to the person who brought it in in the first place.

At present, Chief Potter says, his "lost and found" drawer contains a ring which, he says, might be a wedding ring. And in the back room of the police station, there's a practically-brand-new bicycle which isn't licensed, and which was never reported stolen or missing in Menlo Park, and which was brought in last January. Nobody has appeared to identify it.

Wallets, Chief Potter says, are easy to find the owners of. There's usually ample identification in them.

It's the items of jewelry which usually stay around for the longest time and some of which eventually are handed over to the person who first brought them in.

Every once in a while, the department has to resort to some detective work to return an item to its owner.

Thus, the officers at one time found themselves deciphering a faintly-engraved name on a $100 wrist watch which was turned in.

After figuring out what the name was, they went through the telephone book and called everybody who had that title, until they found the person who'd lost the watch in the first place, but who'd never reported it missing.

The 'Lost and Found' . . .

. . . division of the police department traffics in all sorts of interesting items and to prove it, the gendarmes Monday for a time found themselves custodians of about $40 worth of beef steaks. The box containing the foodstuffs fell off a truck driven by Andy Bauer, left, of San Carlos; they were recovered by some youngsters who turned them over to school bus driver Mrs. Mary Ferriera. She turned them in at the police station and the officers were making preparations to get them into a refrigerator when the driver arrived to reclaim his missing property. That's Chief George Potter admiring the steaks, on the right. —Recorder photo

Dr. Emil Witschi, professor of zoology, embryology and endocrinology at the State University of Iowa, on April 12 will discuss "Sex Reversal in Animals and in Man" before members of the Stanford Research Institute staff, at a lecture to be given at Stanford University.

Scout Executive Is Speaker Here

Members of the School Club of Bethany Lutheran Church Monday night heard Scout Executive James Taylor discuss the Cub Scout program of San Mateo county, at their regular monthly meeting at the parish hall.

Taylor, a resident of East Palo Alto, has been active in the Scouting program here for the past two years.

He was introduced by Sidney T. Farber, vice-president and program chairman of the church organization.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. O. M. Oswald, Mrs. Edwin Oxner and Mrs. John F. Dahl.

Satellite Unit Stays in Business

The satellite tracking station temporarily situated just north of San Francisquito Creek, between El Camino Real and the railroad tracks, last week was assured of a few more weeks of legal operation.

When the Philco Corporation Monday asked an extension of a conditional use permit for the unit, the matter was continued by the city's planners, thus assuring legality of the station for the next month.

Firemen Aid Tot's Breathing

Firemen at North Fair Oaks station 5, 4101 Fair Oaks avenue, last Thursday night administered oxygen to a three-year-old boy, brought to the station by his parents, who was experiencing difficulty in breathing.

The firemen said the tot was suffering from a fever.

Plan Shows Area Grade Units

Under one present plan for development of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District line through San Mateo county, two overpasses and one underpass would be subtituted for all of the present at-grade railroad crossings between Atherton avenue and San Francisquito Creek.

This was announced last week, following submittal of a report by engineers consulting for the district and seeking the best surface route for the proposed high speed transit system.

In all, the report said, 23 underpasses and overpasses will be substituted for all present crossings in the county.

In this area, the grade crossing at Watkins avenue in Atherton would be replaced by an overpass which would cost $736,400; the Glenwood avenue crossing would be replaced by a $792,800 underpass, and the Ravenswood avenue crossing would be replaced by a $1,369,200 overpass.

All other present grade crossings, presumably, would be closed.

Total cost of all 23 of the underpasses and overpasses at present proposed for the county would be $31,177,300, the engineers estimated.

The plan under discussion calls for operation of the transit facility in the form of trains operating on new tracks just west of the present Southern Pacific tracks.

The total cost of the underpasses and overpasses would include fund for acquisition of right-of-way, say the engineers.

INDUSTRIAL BUILDING

Industrial building permits issued in San Mateo county during January of 1960 totalled $186,766, as compared with $548,300 for the same period in 1959. This is reported by the Bay Area Council.

GOP Assembly Unit Gets High Honors

The Sequoia Unit of the California Republican Assembly was honored at the state convention of the Republican Assembly held in Sacramento the weekend of March 4 and 5. They were the recipient of the William Ventre award made annually to the Unit recruiting the most new members in the preceding year for all of Central California.

Mrs. Virginia Cary of Menlo Park, the present president of the unit, accepted the plaque in behalf of the Sequoia group. Ed Smith of 615 San Mateo drive, Menlo Park, was the president of the group during this intense membership drive of 1959-60.

The group is now in the process of another local drive to recruit new workers for the job ahead in 1960 and any interested Republicans who desire information or want to join may call Mrs. Cary at DA 2-6793.

The Republican Central Committee as well as other volunteer units of the county joined in their acclaim for a job well done in the south country area.

'Pioneers' Unit Meets Locally

Sequoia Life Members Club of the Telephone Pioneers will gather for their regular meeting on Friday, March 18, at 1:30 p.m. at the Pacific Telephone building, 66 Willow place in Menlo Park.

Dr. L. A. Waitzinger of Palo Alto will be the featured speaker, discussing problems of gardening and planting in this area.

All retired former telephone company employees are invited to attend; refreshments will be served.

Area Men Back Nixon for GOP

Two area men have been named among a group of 70 Californians, each supporting the candidacy of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency, who are candidates for the state's delegation to the Republican National Convention.

The two are John W. Dinkelspiel, attorney who resides in Atherton, and Richard J. Elkus, president of the U.S. Leasing Co. and a resident of Woodside.

Dinkelspiel, who is co-chairman of the Nixon for President committee of northern California, is a candidate for delegate-at-large.

Elkus, who is a member of the San Mateo county Republican Finance Committee, is a candidate for delegate.

Watches, Wallets Taken by Burglar

Eight wristwatches and two wallets were taken from the Preuss Pahrmacy, 800 Santa Cruz avenue, by an agile burglar who some time Monday night climbed to the roof of the building, broke skylight, and dropped through to the floor below.

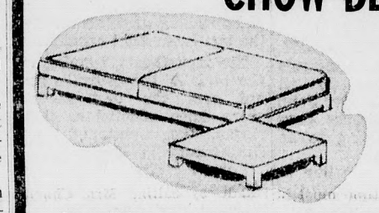

The illegal entry was discovered Tuesday morning.

Police said the culprit got to the roof by climbing up a neon sign.

WHAT'S DOING
R. R. Maloney, your Telephone Manager for Menlo Park

Telephone men wearing headsets aren't too unusual a sight in our business.

Deskman Errol Longanecker is just one of the many telephone men serving the Menlo Park area. Errol makes final checks on newly installed phones to make sure they're ready to use. Also, from his special test desk he traces out trouble reports so repair men can get right on the job. You may never have the occasion to see a deskman at work. But remember he's always ready to track down any sign of trouble on your line and help keep your telephone a service you can count on.

The last place you might expect to find coal is in your telephone. But it's there, all right. In each telephone mouthpiece there are tiny coal granules that change voice waves into waves of electric current. Phone people are very particular about this coal—they get a special, handpicked anthracite from Pennsylvania. First, it's crushed, ground, sifted and sorted. Next, it's washed, rinsed, dried, tested for cleanliness and roasted 24 hours at temperatures up to 2048° F. Then it's cooled, tested again, and stored for six months before it's used. Sound complicated? Yes! But it's just one of the ways we work to make your telephone more dependable — more valuable to you.*

Birthdays, anniversaries, and other special occasions for family and friends seem always to be popping up. Much as we'd like to, we often can't be there in person to deliver best wishes. And that's when a long distance call can mean so much. If you've received a call on a special day from someone far away, you know what I mean. It's an exciting visit for everyone gathered 'round. The cost is low—even lower station-to-station and after 6 p.m. Next time, why not "be there" with a long distance telephone call.

For Families and Employees:

Stanford Research Institute Readies Atomic War Defenses

Stanford Research Institute this week made it known that the basements of its permanent headquarters here are being equipped as fallout shelters, for the preservation of staff members and their families in the event of a nuclear war.

A volunteer team of SRI experts, evaluating the likelihood that nearby military and industrial installations would be primary targets in the first attack of such a holocaust, also presented each staff member with a 70-page volume of instructions.

It called attention to the availability of the SRI basement shelter and also gave details of plans for evacuation of the area, and for construction of home shelters.

The group which published the volume was headed by Rogers S. Cannell, SRI's manager for industry and civil defense research.

On the basis of the assumption that Moffett Field would be the nearest primary target area and that a five-megaton bomb would be the maximum size to be used to neutralize it, the pamphlet points out that only 23 per cent of SRI's families would be killed by the blast of the bomb itself.

The remainder can be saved if they have adequate fallout protection for a period which may extend to over two weeks in time; virtually all of them could be expected to die without shelter, the booklet goes on to say.

(City Civil Defense council Secretary Michael Bedwell pointed out several months ago that the mid-peninsula, which used to be regarded as an "evacuation area" which would be used by survivors of an atomic attack on San Francisco, has been reclassified as an "impact area" subject to attack.—ed.)

The SRI basement shelter, Cannell said, cost the institute only about $10,000, inasmuch as it was included in the original building plan. SRI's second unit will also have basement facilities and the total will have sufficient space to house 4500 persons.

The booklet points out that some employees' families would have difficulty reaching SRI, in the event major north-south roads are made "one way" for evacuation of north peninsula communities.

'SAFETY MARGIN'

It also points out that residents have about 30 minutes between an actual nuclear blast and the time fallout reaches dangerous levels on the ground. This time must be used for taking shelter.

That the city's aid would be enlisted in making the SRI plan as effective as possible is indicated by the fact that the local police would be asked to try to keep one northbound lane of El Camino Real open, from Ravenswood avenue to San Francisquito creek. This would enable families of SRI staff members to arrive at the institute, even if most traffic arteries were otherwise termed "one way."

Several members of the staff organization have already been assigned various specialties in the over-all program. John E. Wagner and David F. Fulton head the information section; Vincent Salmon is in charge of warning; Thomas O'Neill will head policing and he and Myron D. Hill are working on plant shutdown procedures.

Earl F. Armstrong is in charge of food storage and supplies as well as water procurement and rationing. A well has been dug in the basement to assure the supply of the latter.

Samuel C. Bonar is heading planning for medical services; Arthur Kelsen, sanitation; Hill, fuel supplies for emergency power plants; Hendrickus Meyer, radio communications and equipment; Paul Wendt, monitoring of radioactivity.

Kendall Knoll, decontamination equipment and procedures; Robert Woodcock, community assistance; Robert Harker damage assessment; Cannell, manpower requirements and Wagner, manpower availability.

After Attack:

JOB SEEN

In the event of an atomic attack on the United States, Stanford Research Institute's first function in working for the government would probably be damage assessment and rehabilitation planning.

This was indicated this this week in a survival booklet, titled "Live," published by SRI as a guide for employees and their families.

"Present and planned SRI computers will be located above ground," the statement says. "However, steps will be taken to provide shielding and standby power for the computer location in (the proposed building two of the permanent headquarters.)

"In the meantime, hand-procedures have been developed and the necessary data, including instructions for use, have been stored in the basement of building one."

Atherton Man Heads Dealers Organization

Herbert J. Mayer, 198 Catalpa drive, Atherton, California, executive vice-president of the Western Machinery Company and general manager of the Edward R. Bacon Company has been named president of the Associated Equipment Distributors at a special executive committee meeting in Houston, Texas.

After accepting the AED's highest office, Mayer pledged his support for the 1960 program set forth at the Association's convention, and called upon the membership for its active support of these goals.

He has been active in construction and industrial equipment marketing during most of his business career. Associated with Western Machinery Company since 1935, he has been instrumental in making it one of the nation's largest distributors of contracting and road building equipment.

Automobile Burned Here

A 1956 automobile was damaged to an extent estimated at $200 here last Friday night, when wires short-circuited and ignited gasoline vapors.

Firemen said the vehicle, driven by Richard Shipley of Hillsborough, caught fire in front of 387 Waverley street. They were called to the scene at 11:38 p.m.

Foreign Policy Topic of Meet Set by League

Members of the League of Women Voters of Menlo Park, husbands and guests will gather at the Algiers Restaurant, El Camino Real, Redwood City for a dinner meeting Wednesday, March 23, at 6:30 p.m.

The program for the evening, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William J. Adams, Jr., will be devoted to U.S. Foreign policy, which as a national study item in its second year is engaging the attention of the 127,000 members of the League of Women Voters throughout the country.

A special feature of the evening meeting will be a discussion by two qualified speakers, of "The Possibilities of Competition and Cooperation in Aid to the Developing Areas of the World."

Paul A. Baran, a native of Russia, has been a Professor of Economics at Stanford University since 1949. He received his education in Germany ,France and at Harvard University.

Prior to coming to Stanford he served as a senior economist at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. During the war, he served with the U.S. Army in the Office of Strategic Services in Europe and the Pacific theaters of war.

Guy Jean Pauker, who was born in Bucharest, Rumania, has bee nan Associate Professor of Political Science at the University of California since 1956.

He received his education at the University of Bucharest and his doctorate at Harvard University. He is the author of a number of publications in the field of international affairs; and serves as a consultant to such public affairs organizations as the Rand Corporation, U.S. Air Force, Department of State, World Affairs Council, etc.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in world affairs. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Charles J. Rend, EM 8-8-7082 or Mrs. Phillip B. Hoffman, DA 3-2238.

Boy Knocked Down by Auto

Spencer Sires, 8, of 2355 Ralmar street in East Palo Alto, was taken to Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital for treatment Sunday afternoon, after he was apparently knocked to the pavement of Willow road by an automobile.

Police said the boy had apparently walked into the path of an eastbound auto operated by Robert Valles, 33, of San Francisco, near the Willow orad-Newbridge street intersection.

They said the boy suffered cuts and bruises.

He was not in a pedestrian crosswalk at the time he was struck they added.

Insurance Co. Promotes Man

Charles Beebe, 272 Marmona drive, has been appointed staff manager for the San Mateo district agency of Prudential Insurance Co., according to H. Kenneth Zollars, manager.

A native of Somerville, Mass., Beebe attended schools in Quincy, Mass. During World War II he served with the U.S. Navy in the Pacific theatre.

Beebe joined Prudential in 1957 as an agent here. He is a member of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

New Position Set At Consolidated

R. M. Schmitz has been named director of personnel of Consolidated Freightways, CF President J. L. S. Snead Jr. announced. It is a new position.

Schmitz was technical personnel director for the Sunbeam Corporation in Chicago for two years before joining CF. He has also held positions as director of staff development for the management consulting firm of Booz, Allen & Hamilton, and assistant manager of labor relations for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Schmitz, 38, has a BS degree in Industrial Economics and an MS degree in Industrial Psychology from Iowa State University.

HOST SOCIAL HOUR

Dr. and Mrs. Sampel Roland of Atherton will act as hosts of the Oneg Shobbat following March 25 services at Temple Beth Jacob in Redwood City.

Big Incidence Of Mumps In the County

An apparently high rate of incidence of mumps throughout the county reached unincorporated precincts near Menlo Park last month, with 15 cases of the disease reported from such areas.

This was revealed this week in the county health and welfare department's regular monthly report on communicable diseases, which also said that one case was reported from inside the city limits, while no cases were reported from Atherton.

On the other hand, 43 cases of the disease were reported from San Carlos during the same period, and 58 cases were reported from San Mateo.

Of incorporated communities south of Redwood City, Atherton was the "healthiest" during February, reporting only a single case of chicken pox. Woodside reported only four cases of communicable diseases: one of syphilis and three streptococcal infections.

From within the city limits there were reported three cases of German measles, three streptococcal infections and case each of gonorrhea and mumps.

Besides the mumps, the outside-city areas reported three cases of chicken pox, one case of German measles, two cases of gonorrhea, one case of salmonellosis, four cases of shigellosis, three streptococcal infections and two cases of syphilis.

As We See It:

Adults Don't Monopolize Straight Thinking, Morals

The younger generation, it's been said since the beginning of time, is "going to the dogs."

We aren't among those who have echoed this rather shabby phrase and as partial proof that young people today think a lot straighter and have a better sense of balance than a lot of adults, we herewith reprint a recent editorial from "Bear Tracks," student newspaper at Menlo-Atherton High School. It was written by a sophomore student there.

* * * *

Within the last few years, two legal cases have appeared which seem to testify especially well to the deviation that has taken place in American social and judicial values. They are the fairly recent Charles van Doren trial, and the long, drawn-out Chessman affair.

Both men were, and one is still, in the glaring eye of the public. Both are guilty although their degree of guilt is not comparable. But one was released, and one has been sentenced to death, although stays of execution have postponed the end again and again. But why is it that the public reacts so sympathetically to these two men, one a fraud and a liar, the other a kidnap-rapist? Is the public so shallow that it cannot grasp the fact that these two men are both guilty of having broken American values and moral standards?

Charles van Doren, who had long entertained the public with what now may be questionable feats of knowledge, committed perjury on the witness stand, and finally admitted to fraud. People everywhere responded with a wave of sympathy and suggestions to the state and the court to be as lenient as possible, after all "he had been so spectacular." Van Doren was subsequently released with general applause. Why is it, that the public is willing to make concessions like this to those whose purpose it was to amuse them? Does the bad and fraudulent means, thus justify the basically cheap end which was to provide common entertainment of the sort the quiz shows produce?

The courts of the State of California convicted Caryl Chessman in 1948 of kidnap-rape and robbery and sentenced him to death under the old Little Lindbergh law. Since 1948 he has stayed off execution after execution with a series of legal maneuvers. The newspapers have taken full advantage of this melodrama, and public interest in the case has been whipped into a frenzy. All evidence indicates that people by the thousands are writing letters and wiring telegrams to the state capital pleading for this vicious man's life. The political and so-called "moral undertones, are the factors which made a mockery of the state laws, not Chessman. But people, searching for an escape from the routine of daily life, keep on sending their telegrams and fervent letters and add to the farce on a grandiose scale. What are our laws for? Has the confusion engendered by our highly systematized and categorized mental probings into criminal psychological cause and effect, dulled our sense of right and wrong? The seeming lack of any kind of basic concern over the safety of society as opposed to the relatively minute individual who would prey upon it constitutes a serious problem which has arisen in the conscientious public mind. The question as to which is more important, society in general or the individual in particular must soon follow.

Is the concept of right and wrong absolute or relative? Should there be laws at all, if rigid enforcement is not practiced? Should Americans believe in definite moral standards, or should morals just be a matter of personal taste?

Students at Menlo-Atherton High School will soon take their places as official members of society. These questions will have to be answered sooner or later by all, and present circumstances certainly offer food for thought.

Red Cross Unit Deserves Support

This month is Red Cross membership month and although the local unit is now affiliated with the United Crusade and although it's now a "regional office" of the larger Golden Gate chapter of the American Red Cross, the local unit, we like to feel, is still uniquely this area's.

It was in 1898 that a group of Redwood City residents gathered together and formed the nucleus for the organization which today occupies quarters at 3540 Middlefield road in the North Fair Oaks area.

From that time until its consolidation with the larger peninsula-wide chapter, it was an independent operation, developing a personality, participating in national disaster relief programs, and maintaining an extensive local program of first aid education, aid to hospitalized veterans, Gray Ladies' services, water safety education and a multitude of other functions largely geared to the needs of the area it serves.

The local unit still retains its character; the fact that it has become a part of a larger unit has not resulted in any of its services being "syphoned off" by the larger agency.

As a local charity, it is still deserving of support in the form of active membership as well as financial aid.

This year, as always, contributions are voluntary. And as always, they support a local charitable organization.

The San Andreas fault, which passes through this area in the vicinity of the Alpine-Portola road intersection, hasn't made much news lately.

This is just as well, because that particular rift in the earth's crust has a way of making violent news when it makes any at all.

But from the University of California comes this interesting item about the crack in the earth's crust:

"The San Andreas earthquake fault dividing California may be more than one hundred million years old, and earth slippage along its line may have totalled as much as 350 miles in that time.

"This is the belief of John C. Crowell, associate professor of geology at the University of California, Los Angeles. His own investigations of the fault in southern California have shown a displacement of 165 miles, but earlier slippage may have been blotted out by later geological events.

"The history of the San Andreas and some of its geologic features will be discussed by the University Explorer Sunday, March 20, over the CBS radio network."

Municipal Report:

Ballot Proposition Is Aimed At Building Manager Job

When ballots for the April 12, 1960, municipal elections are mailed to registered voters, it'll be found that the two unopposed incumbents running for re-election — City Clerk Mrs. Margaret Becker and City Treasurer Mrs. Frances Maloney — have decided that status as elective officials is obsolete.

The two haven't been opposed for several elections. This is, possibly, the result of the fact that here's no longer any glamor to serving within city government, while not making any of the policy.

Too, although the positions are the only paid elective jobs which still remain in Menlo Park's governmental structure, the pay apparently isn't attractive enough to make people want to squander the expenses of campaigns for either of them.

Basically, the reason for the measure's being placed on the ballot is that elected officials working within a city manager-type administration are anachronisms.

Under the city manager form of government, it's assumed that a competent administrator will oversee all the service-providing that the city does.

In order to assure competence in all branches of city government, its' further provided that he'll be able to hire and fire. The right of appeal of employees is of course protected, and the city manager himself is not sacred; He serves at the pleasure of the city council.

Thus, if the city council is elected, it is assumed that they'll have control of the city manager and he, in turn, has control of all employees—including the city treasurer and the city clerk.

The reason it hasn't worked that way in Menlo Park is that the city manager job was, at first, sort of superimposed on the existing city government.

Former City Manager C. L. Longson had misgivings, when he took the job in 1947, that all the council wanted was "a glorified building inspector."

The council at that time decided that they'd have to throw in some other functions if they were going to keep a competent manager happy. So they legislated him the position of superintendent of public works as well.

Establishment of a recreation department and the acquisition of Burgess Park meant that a new municipal department had to be formed, and it was easy to designate that the recreation director should be a department head, working with his own commission but under the administration of the city manager.

As things stand today, the several department heads — who are specialists—work under a city manager who is, in fact, a generalist.

The department heads include the police chief, building inspector, assistant superintendent of public works, recreation director and librarian.

The city planner and administrative assistant fit into the picture somewhere, too. But they have no departments to direct.

Meanwhile, while this structure has been built, the older elective positions have remained. The city treasurer and city clerk are still independent, not under the authority of the city manager.

Happily for Menlo Park, the present incumbents have performed cooperatively. They've sincerely worked hard to give fair value for wages received. Because both were elected, in the first instance, long before city manager type government was instituted, they had to be responsive to the needs of the entire community at that time. And they've remained so today.

But if the city manager's position is to become that of total management of the city's various departments, the treasurer's job and the clerk's job must be made appointive, and under his.

Tragedy Necessary?

Editor, the Recorder:

"What a horrible tragedy." This is typical of the comments I have heard on the train wreck at Bakersfield on March 2.

Day after day the potential for an even greater tragedy grows on the Peninsula as traffic keeps increasing. One person being killed at a time is so commonplace that it scarcely kets a notice in the paper.

I'm wondering if it will take an oil truck or a school bus being demolished at one of the many railroad crossings to awaken the rest of the communities of the Peninsula to follow the lead of Palo Alto in putting in overpasses and eliminating these hazards.

A better solution of course would be to eliminate or reroute this instrument of destruction, the railroad, which has split the Peninsula geographically for so long.

Sincerely yours,

'Dog Case' Comment

Editor, the Recorder:

Presently I'm stationed at Chanute A.F.B., Ill., by the time you receive this letter I'll be in New York. I'm writing this letter in regard to the shooting which killed the dog of James Fraser.

I've known this lad of 18 ever since we went through basic training in Texas. I also read the letter written by his mother . I notice that Jimmy wasn't the same after seeing a newspaper. When I asked him what the trouble was he let me read the paper sent by his mother.

When I read this article I was shocked at how a person could be so cruel to animals.

I myself was raised on a farm on Long Island, New York. In all my life I have never harmed or killed an animal. How anyone could kill an animal is beyond me.

I only hope this man can sleep after the terrible crime he committed.

In N. Y. the penalty for killing a dog is practically the same as killing a human being. I also hope he can think of the way Jimmy feels after raising the dog from a puppy.

County Comment:

Huge Wage Boost Requests Indicate Where Money Goes

By FLOYD F. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

County Manager E. R. Stallings has tossed a bombshell into the laps of the board of supervisors.

The subject is an old one, but this is probably the first time that a manager has actually recommended that the county turn over its fire department to the state of California. The board has the proposal under study and may not go along.

Stallings predicted that the county would save $150,000 a year if the state took over the department. More than likely, the personnel of the present department would be blanketed into the state civil service. Pay adjustments might be necessary where staff members now are rated in a bracket higher than the state standards.

Even back in the days of Colonel Fred Peterson, the fiery county manager, the county talked of a similar shift. The late Colonel H. E. Edmonds as a supervisor, worked long and hard for such a move. That neither succeeded is well known.

Stallings said his recommendation came after a "long and thorough study, and that after all when a saving of $150,000 can be made without a reduction in service I'll have to go along."

The county fire department now operates under a budget of just below $300,000 and has a splendid record of low fire losses. The fact that almost all operations have been moved to the hill areas has left many home areas in the unincorporated sections without fire protection altogether or with limited service at the best.

The huge redwoods and other timber areas have been the principal objects of protection as well they might be and probably the state can do the job as well with the resulting big savings to the local tax levy.

But let's not get elated over any tax breaks for the present. A look at the demands of the San Mateo County Employees' Association and the local unit of the State, County and Municipal Employees Union makes us shudder at the additional load to be carried if approved by the Civil Service Commission and the board of supervisors.

Roughly the estimates place the cost of salary raises and benefits at $750,000 or more for the first year.

Stallings has only received letters of the requests submitted to the CS Commission and has not had time to analyze the costs down to a close figure, but estimated a three-quarter million total.

He said the request of county employees' group would add between $16 and $18 a month to the pay of each employee—some 2000 of them.

The group asks a waiver of pre-existing conditions including $50 deductible, cumulative annually; 100 per cent coverage with deductions up to $700; 80 per cent coverage up to $10,000 after the first $750. Coverages should include, the request says, medical, doctor's care, hospitalization, private duty nursing, ambulance, drugs, medicines, X-rays, laboratory tests and all other therapeutic service and supplies as prescribed by a physician, in or out of the hospital. . . . The employees' cost of this program should be borne 100 per cent by the county.

The employees' dependents should have the same coverage with the cost of this coverage borne by the employee under payrooll deduction. Our senior retired citizens should be entitled to this program on the same basis as a working employee, and have essentially coverage for himself and his dependents."

On top of all this the employees want a straight across-the-board one-step salary increase in keeping with cost of living boosts and comparative salaries in other fields.

A one-step salary will mean about $300,000 on the salary budget—not to mention the increase on the pension and medical fund. Last year the taxpayers picked up a tab for $889,000 to pay the costs of the retirement program. This included $729,000 for the regular pension plan and $160,000 for the federal government's Old Age Security program. Two retirements and they want more!

Then if you will add to all this the requests for two-step increases for nurses, sanitarians, and deputy sheriffs AND four weeks vacation instead of three after 15 years of service. Too, they want unlimited accumulative sick leave for all workers and a uniform for such as the sheriff's department, county agricultural staff, almost the entire hospital and clinic staffs, etc., etc.

Considering all the benefits that county workers already have, the requests for increased vacations and dependents' medical coverage seem a little on the ridiculous side.

The workers now get about two weeks of paid holidays on top of the regular three weeks.

Sick leave benefits are already VERY liberal.

The fact that a one-step salary boost is almost a foregone conclusion should mean a lot to the workers.

That alone boosts the retirement program and with OSI gives the retired people pretty much of a good thing.

Some time ago it was planned to consolidate these two pension plans, thus bringing about quite a reduction in the costs but nothing has been done as yet.

Such demands make it quite clear where and how our tax monies are being spent.

25 Years Ago:

New School Building Law Made Problem

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

March 22, 1935:

"The passing of the $75,000 bond issue March 29 is necessary to insure the maintenance of Sequoia High School's efficiency as well as to protect the safety and welfare of the pupils."

This is a statement of A. C. Argo, principal, in speaking to members of the Sequoia faculty at their regular meeting Monday night at the high school.

Moreover the bond issue is necessary, he said, to protect the investment already in the school building, grounds and equipment, amounting to three quarters of a million dollars. If present buildings are not strengthened according to the new building code, they will have to be closed indefinitely and tent houses erected to house the students at a considerable cost to the district, he further declared.

10 Years Ago:

Leashing Law Was Opposed

March 23, 1950:

"Man's best friend" found this week that he too has friends.

The nucleus of a citizens' committee to work against a leashing provision in the proposed Menlo Park control ordinance was formed Monday night.

It will lose no time going into action toward "turning out the vote" April 11, when the leashing provision will be put to informal ballot for guidance of the city council.

The group extended an invitation to all interested persons to join in the campaign.

Walter-Type:

'SICK' JOKE

Walter the Weathermouse limped gingerly into the office this week with his report, tossed it on the desk and leaned carefully against the wall.

"What's the matter with you?" we asked.

"I put in a hard night at my desk all last night," Walter retorted.

"Work hard?"

"Yeah," he said, "I really earned the midnight boil."

Any classification omitted herein not less than $2.865 per hour plus employer payments set forth in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the class or classification of the workman or mechanic involved, as defined in Section 1773.1 of the Labor Code.

Employer payments other than those itemized above, as defined in Section 1773.1 of the Labor Code, are to be paid in accordance with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the type or classification of the workmen or mechanics employed on the project.

Overtime, Sundays and Holiday—not less than one and one-half (1½) times the basic hourly rate plus applicable employer payments. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workman employed on the project.

Copies of all collective bargaining agreements relating to the work as set forth in the aforementioned Labor Code are on file and available for inspection in the office of the Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Statistics and Research.

Attention is directed to Section 7-1.01G of the Standard Specifications providing for employment of apprentices on the work. Every such apprentice shall be paid the standard wage paid to apprentices under the regulations of the trade at which he is employed. Information relative to employment of apprentices shall be obtained from the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations, who is the Administrative Officer of the California Apprenticeship Council.

Plans, specifications, and standard proposal form to be used for bidding on this project can only be obtained at the office of the State Highway Engineer, Public Works Building, Sacramento, California.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the State Highway Engineer at Sacramento, at the offices of the District Engineers at Los Angeles and San Francisco, and at the office of the District Engineer of the district in which the work is situated.

No bid will be considered unless it is made on a blank form furnished by the State Highway Engineer and is made in accordance with the provisions of the Proposal Requirements and Conditions set forth under Section 2 of the Standard Specifications. Each bidder must be licensed and also prequalified as required by law. (See said Proposal Requirements and Conditions.)

The Department of Public Works reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

M-A Adult School Lists 50 Courses for Spring Quarter

More than 50 courses are to be presented by the Menlo-Atherton adult evening school during the spring quarter which commences Monday.

Ranging in scope from citizenship courses for the foreign born to higher mathematics courses which are arranged for individuals or small groups, classes are being presented at a variety of locations and hours, Principal C. C. Wyatt pointed out this week.

The number of places where courses are given now includes Little House, the civic center meeting rooms of Menlo Park, Burgess park theater, the Ravenswood recreation center in East Palo Alto, Ladera Community church, East Palo Alto Community church, Ravenswood High School, and Las Lomitas school.

Too, Wyatt points out, the adult school can no longer be described as strictly an "evening" school. Some classes meet as early as 9 a.m.

Of special interest to those who have not yet received their high school displomas is a course in English grammar and usage presented at Menlo-Atherton during the evening.

This course is required for high school graduation and is one of 11 courses given in the "speech arts" section of the adult school program.

Other courses given in this section include creative writing, drama, intermediate and advanced French, conversational Spanish on two levels of proficiency and great books and magazine writing courses.

PARENT EDUCATION

Parent education classes include sections devoted to "child development" and "prenatal and infant care."

Socio-civic education courses include youth leadership U.S. history, government, and a new "Western European Color course" comparing various cultures in that area of the world.

A course initiated last fall which has achieved considerable success is the electronics course being presented at Ravenswood High School, Wyatt reports. It has been expanded to two courses: beginning electronics and introduction to electronics.

Other industrial arts courses being presented include metalcraft and woodshop.

Citizenship courses include Citizenship and both beginning and advanced English for the foreign born.

Arts and crafts courses include beginning art; brush painting; ceramics; China painting; home decorative art; Japanese brush painting; jewelry design, construction and lapidary; mosaics; oil painting and watercoloring.

Business education courses available include investments, real estate, shorthand and typing and office machines.

Driver education is also to be presented, but will start March 31.

The gardening class meets Wednesdays at 10 a.m. at the Menlo Park recreation center.

Further information may be obtained from the adult school office, which may be obtained at DA 3-4145, extension 17.

Air Missiles To Be Shown At Science Fair

On Saturday, March 19, Menlo-Atherton high school will hold its third annual science fair in J building from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. Featured at the fair will be over 100 student projects.

Also, through the courtesy of the United States Navy, a Sidewinder air to air missile will be on display. The missile, about 9 feet long, is guided by a heat-seeking or infrared device. It is designed to destroy high performance aircraft from sea level to altitudes above 50,000 feet.

With less than 24 moving parts and no more electronic components than are found in a table radio, the Sidewinder requires no specialized technical training to handle or assemble.

Basically a defensive weapon, it perfits defending fighters to knock down the fastest known aircraft even when miles away. It is now the primary airborne missile used by squadrons in the Sixth fleet in the Mediterranean and the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

It has also been adapted by the Air Force for air defense of the continental United States.

In addition to the Sidewinder, a Nike Ajax ground-to-air missile will be displayed outside J building.

Obtained through the U.S. Army information service, it is this type of missile which is found in the numerous installations which guard the coast line of the United States.

'Progress' Topic At Little House

"Progress Through Research" will be the subject of the regular meeting of the Little House workshop to be held today at 2 p.m. in Menlo Park.

The program, presented by Miss Joby Henderson of Pacific Telephone's public relations staff, will describe the challenge of industrial research.

The transistor and the Bell Solar battery are two results of research which will be shown and described in this program.

Machines with memories and an exact replica of the earth satellite, Vanguard, will be seen and heard also.

"Progress Through Research" is designed to bring its audience up to date on the many roles research is playing in industry.

Dealers Attend Area Meeting

Service station dealers will share in the business boom predicted for the coming decade by the nation's top economists.

This is the theme Menlo Park Shell dealers, Charles I. Rider, Jr., Fred R. Marwood, H. William Darnley, Elvis L. Jowers, Harry L. Wilson, Andrew C. Brown, and John P. Bass, will discuss at the annual Shell Oil Company spring dealer meeting next week at Palo Alto.

It is estimated that the expanding economy of the United States will require 5 per cent more petroleum in 1960 than in 1959. Service station dealers, who supply the largest volume of oil products to the public, will share in that growth.

Former Recorder Staffer Aims For Career in Nuclear Field

JAMES INNES

A former Recorder circulation aide who qualified for a career in nuclear power plant operation is well on the way toward entry into this new field, thanks to the navy.

And although he's been in almost continuous training since he joined the service in August, he's got at least another two years of training ahead of him.

Beyond that, there's a possibility for government-sponsored college work, in the field of nucleonics.

The former Recorder staffer is James Innes, son of Mrs. George Innes of 415 Chester street.

A 1959 graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School, he worked as a circulation aide for about seven months, before deciding his interest in science and mathematics was greater than his interest in newspapering.

He contacted the navy recourthouse in Redwood City and made known his hopes for a scientific occupational career.

Recruiters checked his grades at the high schcol and found he had a good average: about a B. And young Innes had taken more than the minimum number of scientific courses, too.

They gave him their own qualifying test and learned from it that he was qualified for their extended training program.

To date, he's been through weeks of engineman school at weeks of enginman school at San Diego. The latter includes study of common types of engines, as a preliminary to work with the nuclear-powered ones.

Following a present leave, he's going to New London, Conn., for training as a submariner. This will take eight weeks and after that, he'll be sent to sea for six months to learn the ins and outs of underwater vehicles.

Next on the agenda will be a tour at nuclear school in Idaho, where a nuclear reactor is available for study.

After that, there's a choice of two places to go: Either on to college for more intensive study or to the fleet, which is being equipped with nuclear-powered submarines in response to the scientific advancements of the age.

50th Anniversary Of Red Cross First Aid Program

With the announcement of a new advanced First Aid class to begin on March 22, Chairman, Colonel A. P. Croonquist of Sequoia Region points out that this year American Red Cross first aid service celebrates its 50th anniversary.

One of the most popular "do-it-yourself" courses in the country, Red Cross first aid program has taught 21 million Americans how to prevent accidents and save lives since 1910.

The "Standard First Aid Textbook", in its fourth revision, has been a top best seller in the half-century.

"Our goal continues to be at least one member of every family trained in first aid," Col. Croonquist said, "and we're willing to establish classes at various places and times in order to reach people."

The newest course offered by Sequoia Region is the 16-hour advanced first aid class, to be held on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at regional headquarters, 3540 Middlefield road, Menlo Park.

Institute Issues New Staff Paper

A new staff paper, "Significant Issues in Economic Aid to Newly Developing Countries," has been prepared by the staff of Stanford Research Institute's International Industrial Development Center.

Authors of the 75-page volume are Frank L. Turner, senior industrial economist; Edward S. Prentice, director of International Programs; Guy Benveniste, assistant director of International Programs; William E. Moran, senior international economist; and Sperry Lea, industrial economist.

The paper reviews the present structure and operation of various foreign aid programs in which the United States is presently involved: It also discusses such subjects as the rising influence of communist aid and trade activities, and the magnitude of aid requirements of the underdeveloped countries.

Harry R. Kimball, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Kimball, 354 Fletcher drive, Atherton, has been elected vice-president of Phi Beta Pi, medical social fraternity at Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis.

Kimball, who will complete his sophomore year at the medical school this spring, attended Menlo-Atherton High School and received the A.B. degree from Stanford University.

DEN 4, PACK 234 VISITS RECORDER

Five members of Den 4, Pack 234 Cub Scouts of Portola Valley School last Thursday visited the offices of the Menlo Park Recorder and toured its production facilities.

Those who made the tour included Alan Mathews, Bob Wilhelm, Randy Groenke, Greg Linvill and Brad Harris. The boys were accompanied by Joe Mathews, a guest, and Mrs. Arthur Mathews, den mother.

Hiller Report Discloses Upward Trend

The Hiller Aircraft Corporation annual report, released this week, discloses a continued upward trend in sales, and substantial increases in both commercial and military helicopter production.

Sales totaled $16,211,624 for a 23 per cent increase. Net income of $305,903 after taxes was slightly lower than the 1958 figure of $327,125 due to heavy write-offs of aircraft development costs during the year.

The report also showed that all of Hiller's $1.6 million long-term debt had been converted to capital stock or retired during the year and that share owner's equity rose from $8.29 to $9.61 per share during 1959.

At a conference in New York this week, President Stanley Hiller, Jr., stated that although military sales during 1960 are expected to be somewhat less than last year's all-time high a major swing toward the new Hiller civilian helicopter line occurred in the market late in 1959

Campaign Coming Up:

Area Cancer Society Workers Set 'Briefing

An anticipated 100 San Mateo county Cancer Society workers, representing Woodside, Atherton, Menlo Park, Portola Valley, East Palo Alto and Menlo Park will meet on Tuesday, March 29, for a major briefing session for the all-out April Cancer fund drive an deducational campaign.

The meeting will begin at 1 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church Fellowship hall in Menlo Park.

Dr. Stanford B. Rossiter, secretary of the local branch of ACS will deliver the keynote address.

A film, "Never Alone," will be shown. It highlights the Cancer Society's goals.

Other speakers will include President Mrs. Edward H. Jenanyan of Redwood City Vice President Mrs. Conrad Lazzareschi of Atherton, Service Chairman Mrs. Charles E. Hoffman of San Mateo, and Education Director Mrs. Wayne West of Menlo Park.

They joined to emphasize that the Cancer Society here as well as throughout the county "combats cancer through its information as well as research services. It reaches thousands locally, and millions nationally with life-saving messages through radio and TV programs, through newspapers—which cooperate to the utmost in our county—and through films, advertisements and free pamphlets."

The April combined fund and educational drive enables the 5,000 ACS volunteers to reach virtually every home in the county to remind the householder that this is the time to check on cancer

M-A Bears Come Home With PBT Crown

Second in their league standings, second choice for a post-season tournament crown, but finally first in Peninsula Basketball Tournament play, the Menlo-Atherton Bears this week are theoretically the class of five Bay Area prep leagues.

The Bears did it Saturday night by beating an amazing San Mateo Bearcat five 39-35 in a battle of second-placers in the second annual PBT finals at Stanford Pavilion — a bracket neither were figured by very many to reach.

Coach Bill Loftus' Bruins, however, by the time they had gotten this far were the tournament favorites, despite the fact that the upstart San Mateans, Peninsula Athletic League runners-up, had two terrific upsets behind them and looked very good for a third. Both of these "also-rans" had whipped a pair of league champions in Thursday's opening round and Friday's semifinals, but the Bearcats' were the more impressive.

Coach Ed Burda's Bearcats dumped tourney favorite and South Peninsula Athletic League champion Palo Alto 37-34 Thursday in one of the big upsets of the year and came back to nose out East SCVAL titlist Willow Glen 46-44 Friday on sophomore Bob Griggs' long jumper.

The Bears started things off in the first tourney game Thursday afternoon by nosing out Catholic Athletic League playoff winner Riordan 52-44 and then moved on the finals Friday with a 58-52 pasting of PAL titlist Capuchino, settling the issue both times rather early in the second half.

Willow Glen captured third place with a 58-51 victory over Capuchino Saturday night just before the M-A-San Mateo showdown. Paly came from behind to nose out San Jose 45-39 for the consolation trophy that afternoon.

BEARCATS GROWL

It almost began to look like the Bears were in for another of San Mateo's copyrighted dying-quail explosions late in the fourth period of the final when a rather safe-looking 25-14 halftime lead had been whittled down to 37-35 with 47 seconds left to go.

Bruin forward Rick Wright finally netted two free throws after a foul by San Matean Gaeton Milia to settle it for good, but it had been a long hard fourth quarter. The Bearcats had outscored M-A 13-8 and only their performance in the clutch saved them.

The Loftusmen made the most of their height advantage, grabbing 45 rebounds while the Bearcats were getting only 22, a tournament record low for one game. Big forward Bob Garner did almost half of it himself, seizing 19. His most important one came with 35 seconds left in the game. Bearcat Myron Wacholder missed a short jumper that would have tied it up and Garner came down with it. M-A guard Jim Cheatham did an urgent piece of board-clearing with 20 seconds to go when he got Garner's missed free throw, increasing the pressure on the Bearcats and forcing the foul on Wright that sewed it up for the eventual champs.

Wright led all scorers with 17 points in this one, with Garner second among the Bears with 10. Wacholder was tops for San Mateo with 12, including 10 free throws in 10 attempts. Mike Zocchi and Dave Balsey netted 10 each for the Cats. Thanks to Wacholder, the Bearcats hold the new tourney record for free throw percentage with .840 (21x25).

The Bearcats also got three other dubious records: the low of only 33 shots in one game, seven of them made and a .212 field goal percentage. That they stayed in the game as long as they did is a testament to their hustle and drive.

M-A did somewhat, but not a whole lot better, with a .326 (14x43) field goal mark and a .500 (11x22) from the foul line.

Other than that, Loftus pulled a couple of cute surprises for this big one. First off, he started senior guard Lew Cryer, just now getting back into good shape after a broken foot at the season's beginning. Cryer did a good job of getting ready during the five minutes' notice he got before gametime. He held Milia to his one field goal and was responsible for only four of the Bearcat ace's free throws.

With the five seconds left and Wright's shooting, Loftus then instructed his crew not to go after Wright's second shot rebound if he missed, in order to avoid a foul that could have led to two San Mateo free throws and a possible stolen inbounds pass under the Bearcat basket. While the Bears stood twiddling their thumbs, the second shot went through and Loftus immediately held things up to insert his reserves.

They were told to let the Bearcats go in uncontested for a final basket, again to prevent any fouls that might lead to a tipin or stolen ball. Wacholder apparently was so startled by the lolling Bears that he missed an easy layin and M-A's Jerry Hall stood admiring the rebound until the final buzzer went off and the ensuing pandemonium started.

CAPS CLIPPED

If Wright was good in the final, he was terrific in Friday's semi. Potting 22 points with his short jumpers and drives from the left side, he was the prime mover in the Bears' second-half surge that offset a Capuchino comeback. Wright plunked through 12 points in the third period, strengthening a 26-23 M-A halftime bulge.

When he took a rest in the fourth quarter, 5'8 guard Frankie Lee took up the reins with two of his seemingly impossible driving layins and six free tosses. Lee wound up with 13 for the day.

Led by Neil Calhoon, the big Mustangs made a game try to pull it out in the final period, with deadeye Calhoon sinking three buckets to help outscore the Bruins 16-15 and give him the Mustang scoring leadership with 15. Lewis Hibben was the Caps' big threat in the first half, sinking a layin and five free throws in the second quarter to close an 18-11 first quarter gap to its 26-23 halftime dimensions.

The 6'5 Garner again did to big job for the Bruins on the backboards, bringing down 12 of his tourney total of 46. Although the Bears outrebounded the Caps 37-30, it was Garner with 12 and Wright with seven that did most of the high jump work. Six-four forward Roger Dabney hauled in nine for the Caps.

Both clubs hit a remarkable .500 from the floor in the second half, the Bears 8x19 and the Caps 12x24. The Bears' .778 (14x18) second half mark from the charity line offset their lack of two-pointers, though. They hit .426 (20x47) overall, the Caps .367 (18x49).

CRUSADERS

The Bears shot into tournament prominence in their first attempt Thursday, turning on the power when they had to and keeping the powerful Riordan Crusaders at bay in the second half for their victory.

Lee led the M-A attack this time, scoring 11 markers on three buckets and five free throws. Garner got 10 points and 15 rebounds. Guard John Christenson got 10 on five field goals.

Everything went to pieces for the Bears in the first half. They hit only .267 (8x30) from the floor in the opening round, their 23-14 rebounding edge not helping much because they couldn't do anything with it. The Crusaders dumped in .429 (9x21) of theirs, including a last second basket that gave them a 22-20 halftime advantage.

But the Crusaders couldn't hold on for long and the Bears went ahead early in the third on a Christenson basket to stay.

Southpaw Dennis Smith did the most damage for Riordan, netting 15 points and sharing the Crusader rebound lead with ace center Joe Lanfranco with eight. Lanfranco hit two free throws with 2:15 left to play to reduce the Bear margin at that time to 46-43, but Lee and Garner stormed back with two free tosses and a bucket respectively to put it out of reach.

Wright grabbed off 10 rebounds, although he was held to only five points. Cheatham came through with eight digits, his two buckets wiping out a Riordan first-half lead, and added some top defensive play. Christenson and center Larry Kennedy also worked hard defensively, each taking five rebounds.

All-PBT: TOP TEN

Menlo-Atherton's Frankie Lee and Rick Wright were named to the Peninsula Basketball Tournament all-tourney team Saturday night after the final game, making the Bears one of three teams to place two players on the 10-man honorary team.

The all-tourney squad was selected by six coaches, one from each of the participating leagues, who scored the players on the basis of defense, floor play, rebounding, scoring and sportsmanship, the point totals being averaged out after being totaled up.

Center Rich Hunt of Palo Alto had the top overall average with Wright third and Lee ninth. Roger Olsen of Willow Glen is the only repeater from last year. The all-tourney players and their averages:

Rich Hunt, Palo Alto, 14.6; Bob Falco, Riordan, 14.5; Rich Wright, Menlo-Atherton, 14.2; Gaeton Milia, San Mateo, 14.0; Neil Calhoon, Capuchino, 14.0; Roger Olsen, Willow Glen, 13.5; Vince Collins, San Jose, 13.5; Craig Carpenter, Palo Alto, 13.5; Frankie Lee, Menlo-Atherton, 13.2; Mike Zocchi, San Mateo, 12.8.

Woodside Win Skein Suddenly Ends

Lady Luck finally turned and slapped the Woodside Wildcats right in the face Tuesday as the Cat baseballers bowed for the first time this season in an error-strewn 8-5 loss to Los Altos at the Knight field.

Coach Bob Poole's nine, after three straight early-season wins, will try for No. 4 Tuesday against Mills at Community Park in Redwood City at 3:30 p.m. Last Friday's rained out game with Capuchino was rescheduled for next Thursday, March 24 at Community Park at 3:15 p.m. The Cats meet Cupertino in a JV clash tomorrow at Community at 3:15 p.m.

A two-run homer by catcher Bill Jankord in the seventh and a run-producing single in the third were offset by Knight shortstop Bob Thacher's three-run blast in the sixth off righthander Jerry Palmer that made the final difference. Willis was the loser.

The Wildcats outhit the Knights 7-3 but five errors were their undoing.

Acorn Swimmers Look for BCAL Flag

By PETE HART

Menlo School's swim team got off to a flying start last week, apparently ready to live up to expectations that they'll sweep to their sixth straight Bay Counties Athletic League championship this year.

In opening non-league action, the Acorns slipped by Fremont 52-42 coming from behind in the final relays. Jim Meakin turned in the top time of 1:14.3 in the breaststroke and Bob Haire was a double winner, taking the 220-yard freestyle and 200 individual medley.

The Acorns followed this up with an easy victory over a weak Lowell team, 65-25. Haire again won both 200-yard events Ed Dilkes returned to form by winning the backstroke and Dave Gregg and Pete Whiteley placed one-two in the butterfly. Both relay teams also won.

The Acorn swimmers take on Palo Alto today, their last meet before spring vacation.

They Finally Did It:

M-A Baseballers Get Win No. 1

Big Larry Krenzin did almost all of it himself Tuesday in leading the Menlo-Atherton Bears to their first triumph of the new baseball season, a 4-2 nonleague decision over St. Francis of Mountain View at the Lancer diamond.

The victory broke a three-game losing spell, the latest a 3-0 loss to South San Francisco Tnursday at Flood Park.

Coach Frank Bettencourt's Bruins took on Mountain View yesterday afternoon but results weren't available by Recorder presstime. The Bears go at it again with these same Eagles tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. at Flood. Tuesday, a very tough Los Altos nine comes to Flood for a battle.

Making his first start of the year after suffering a broken toe, Krenzin's flashing fastball earned him a one-hit victory. He went the distance, fanned 12, walked five and allowed one earned run.

As if that wasn't enough, he won his own game with a line triple into center field to score two runs in the Bears' three-run sixth. An error and a fielders' choice put Marty Christiansen and Gordon Mace on the bags. Krenzin brought them in and scored himself on another Lancer error.

Lancer righthander Joe Geenan also went all the way, also allowing only one hit, but seven miscues behind him spelled disaster. Two errors sandwiching Cliff Scott's stolen base allowed Scott to score the first Bear run in the third.

Two walks, John Scoppetone's single and two bad throws at home plate gave the Lancers a temporary 2-1 lead in the fourth. Scott overthrew the plate as Corky Lara scored on Scoppetone's hit. Bear catcher Kent Back retrieved the ball, but threw it over Christiansen's head covering home as Bob Lema came in.

ONLY 92 PITCHES

Starter and loser Darryl DeZur and reliever Ken Hadden tossed only 92 pitches between them against South San Francisco, but some heads-up baserunning and three Bear bobbles gave it to the South Cityites.

Ray Ming walked, went to third on a wild pickoff attempt and scored when the return throw was late in the first inning for the first run. John Skoza scored on a squeeze in the fourth. Neal McNevin doubled, stole third and came home on Bach's wild throw in the sixth to garnish the victory.

Erojans Swamp Cupertino, 13-5

Bruce Surber blasted a lead-off homer and Bob Defillo followed with a two-run blast to start coach Tom Rivera's Ravenswood Trojans off to their second win of the year, this one a 13-5 pasting of the Cupertino JV's Tuesday at Ravenswood.

From The Horse's Mouth...

By JOHN CURRY
Sports Editor

Now that they're through loading Menlo-Atherton basketball coach Bill Loftus down with trophies maybe we can finally put this basketball season away into the record book until it's time to drag it out again in December.

★ ★ ★ ★

Our crystal coffee cup betrayed us last week too. It told us the truth about everybody except Palo Alto, and didn't THAT foul the works? Obviously, the thing to do in future Peninsula Basketball Tournaments is to bring in the second-place teams. That way, a close victory becomes an exciting upset when they win. This formula, we think, added plenty of sparkle to this year's PBT..

★ ★ ★ ★

Of course, we and the M-A rooters are all highly prejudiced now, but that final victory over San Mateo, another second-place finisher, did take the sting out of the outcome of the SPAL race, didn't it?

★ ★ ★ ★

One thing that's rubbing people the wrong way this week is the exclusion of Menlo-Atherton's fine 6' 5 junior forward Bob Garner from the all-tournament team.

The point system the neutral coaches from the six sponsoring leagues used is quite efficient, but needs to be more flexible. Garner hauled in 46 rebounds in the three games he played, 19 in the final when they were needed most.

★ ★ ★ ★

The coaches averaged their point totals to arrive at their top ten at the halftime of the final. In the holocaust of celebrations, picture-taking and rooting section awards following the game, they had about a half-hour to put their tallies together. Naturally they wanted to be early, in case trophy presentations were moved up, but this situation points up the need to hold at least a few spots open until after the game.

Obvious choices like M-A's Rick Wright and Paly's Rich Hunt can be decided early with no sweat, although we can't quite see why Garner wasn't in this group already. He only controlled the backboards for his club, that's all.

★ ★ ★ ★

NOTE IN PASSING:

The bravest show of school spirit was shown by the cute, button-nosed Capuchino song girl all dolled up in her "uniform" and white cowboy boots—and her broken arm in a sling. Small wonder Capuchino is the repeat rooting section champion.

M-A track coach Sam Lugonja masterminding super-fast mimeographing of team statistics after each game in the back room. The statistics crew broke its own record after the final game, getting the stats figured and onto the mimeograph machine in 8:16 after the end of the game.

Menlo College coach Jack Rowley eagerly following the action with an eye toward a little recruiting. No late reports on his success, although he mentioned something about Stanford already having Hunt wrapped up. Shucks.

How About Bubble Gum? . . .

Menlo-Atherton tennis coach Art Boettcher is looking for a way out of a dilemma that could have awkward results—his supply of tennis balls has been cut off.

★ ★ ★ ★

This unsportinglike situation developed when the district decided not to provide tennis ball this year. Not a major sport, you know.

Anyway, a tennis ball only lasts one match before starting to lose its resiliency. It isn't long before it's unusable for practice either.

★ ★ ★ ★

So now what? The student government presented the tennis team with some sharp new uniforms last year, now they look like the best bet to get the necessary balls. Except that there's no money budgeted for them. Art's cupboard is just about bare with almost a whole season still ahead. And the home team has to provide the balls. Good luck, Art.

Bear Mermen Swim Today

Coach Bob Gaughran's Menlo-Atherton Bear swim team figures to go places in the SPAL this year, but until then it looks like they're in over their heads in deadly opponents.

Going into their initial SPAL match against Ravenswood and Cubberley today at Ravenswood, the Bear natators are 0-2 for their efforts. First it was a distant second place in a four-way meet behind fearsome Los Altos Friday and then it was a 59-36 setback from the San Jose State frosh at San Jose Tuesday.

Today's meet should be a snap, since neither Ravenswood or Cubberley even have enough swimmers to participate in all events.

Bill Ready took the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events to lead the Bears in the SJS meet, winning with 24.9 and 56.5 times respectively. Bill Lorton took the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:13.0 for the only other M-A first spot. The Spartababes won the 200-yard freestyle relay in the good time of 1:36.4.

CLARK SHINES

Comet Steve Clark propelled the Los Altos squad, best prep swim team on the Peninsula, to 100 points in the four-way meet Friday. M-A had 49, the SJS frosh 45 and Mountain View 24.

Clark just missed a national interscholastic record in the 50-yard freestyle. Three false starts took the edge off his performance and he finished in 22.9, only three-tenths of a second over the present mark.

Dave MacKenzie won the 400-yard freestyle, M-A's only varsity first.

14 Hits Win For the Oaks

Lashing out with a 14-hit assault, coach Jack Rowley's Menlo College Oaks got off on the right foot Tuesday with a 10-0 victory over Hartnell in the opening round of Coast Conference tiffs.

The Rowleymen will attempt to repeat the feat today at Hartnell, their last diamond action before Easter vacation. They'll be back Tuesday, Mar. 29, at Foothill for a CCJC battle.

Three homers by the Oaks backed up a fine six-inning one-hit pitching job by righthander Dave Hopkins. Lloyd Souza, Rick Malloch and Clark Ransome connected for the round-trippers, Souza adding a triple and a double, going 3-for-4 and getting four RBI's. Bob Talbott also blasted a triple and a double.

Hopkins struck out eight and walked four before Ransome relieved him in the sixth. Although somewhat wild, Ransome came out of it unscathed.

M-A Netters Lose Second Straight

Menlo-Atherton's Dan Armstrong and Sequoia's Bob Ramirez played over 2½ hours Tuesday before Ramirez finally eked out a 6-8, 6-4, 6-4 win to highlight a 5-2 Sequoia tennis victory over M-A on the local courts.

The Bear tennis troupe plays host to Carlmont in the opening SPAL match tomorrow at 3 p.m. The Bears are now 0-2 in nonleague play. A nonleague return match with Sequoia is on tap Tuesday at Sequoia.

Bob Newton (S) d. Dick Abele 6-3, 6-4; Bill Darrough (M) d. Mike Lawton 6-3, 6-0; Bob Ramirez (S) d. Dan Armstrong 6-8, 6-4, 6-4; John Kirk (S) d. Mike Flinn 6-3, 6-4; Marty Kupps (S) d. Gene Sokolski 6-1, 7-5. Tom Randlett-Jim Gibson (S) d. Steve Morgan-Bob Kennedy 3-6, 7-5, 6-0; George Pentz-Clark Gant (M) d. Jim Randlett-Ken Green 6-2, 6-4.

Bruin Cindermen Hustle Past Sequoia; Palo Alto Tomorrow

Hurrying at dizzying speed through the sprints and relays, coach Sam Lugonja's Menlo-Atherton Bear tracksters easily overwhelmed Sequoia Tuesday on the Redwood City oval, 83½-39½. The Bruin B's rubbed it in 70½-40½, but the Cherokees managed to save the Class C win for themselves, 47-30.

The Bears play host to Palo Alto tomorrow in another South Peninsula Athletic League meet. Starting time is 3:45 p.m.

Senior fireball Dick Burns turned in a 9.9 100-yard dash effort, shaving .1 off his 10 flat of two weeks ago in the Bears' opening meet at Ravenswood. Burns then repeated the .1 chopping, this time off his 220-yard dash mark. He did this one in 22 flat.

Getting an assist from the wind, the Bruin rapid-transit machine continued on with Hugh Smith capturing the 880 in 2:09.2, Jim Cheatham coming i noff the 180 low hurdles in 20.5 and Willie Waller taking the 440 in 52.0.

The Bruins took the 880 relay, but in the comparatively slow time, for them, of 1:31.4. The team of Burns, Smith, Waller and Cheatham was a full 1.3 seconds off their midseason time of two weeks ago.

Phil Rundel ran first in the Class B 75- and 150-yard dashes in 8.4 and 16.2 respectively to lead the B sprinters. It was the field events that bailed the Bears out, with Bill Summers winning the shot put and discus.

'Kite Day' Set Next Week

The first annual "Kite Day" to be held at Burgess Park next Saturday, March 26, was announced this week by the Menlo Park Recreation Department.

All manner and form of kites may be entered in the big wind-blown derby to be held from 9:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.

The few simple entry requirements are as follows: 1. All kites must be built by the entrants (either home-made or store kit type) and must be flyable: 2. Entrants must be Menlo Park residents between the ages of six and 16; 3. Registration must be completed by 4:30 p.m. next Thursday at Burgess gym in person or by phoning DA 5-3211, ext. 5.

Awards will be made for altitude races, a messenger race, novelty competition, 100-yard dash, artistic competition, smallest kite, largest kite and funniest kite. The prizes have been donated by Menlo Park merchants.

More kite information may be obtained from the Recreation Department by requesting their "Porky Pig's Kite Fun Book," comic booklet about how to build and fly kites.

Rec Ramblings

By DORIS KOGLER
Menlo Park Recreation Department supervisor of playgrounds and special events

To continue our discussion of the functions of the Menlo Park Recreation Department we shall touch upon finances, one of the most important aspects of departmental functions, since it is the basis of the services rendered by the department. Provision of recreation services is recognized as an accepted function of local government and as such receives financial support so that the extent and quality of recreation services will meet the needs of the community.

The finance function of the Menlo Park Recreation Department is to procure, expend widely and account for public funds which will provide maximum services to the community.

A sound fiscal program is characterized by adequate operating and capital funds derived from a dependable and continuous source for immediate and future needs. Usual financial assistance and support is derived from general funds, special tax levies, fees and charges, bonds and gifts which include properties.

FEES AND CHARGES

A schedule of fees and charges for services provided by the Menlo Park Recreation Department is established and based on various types of services which include services free to the community, services for which partial fees are charged, activities similar in nature to commercial enterprises and facilities used by other governmental agencies and community organizations.

The annual recreation budget, prepared by the Recreation Department for adoption by the City Manager and finally by the City Council, is based upon a well formulated program of work and services to be rendered. Income and expenditure estimates for operations and capital outlay programs are submitted in separate documents.

Sources and amounts of income are also contained in the budget and are classified according to "Revenue Receipts" and "Nonrevenue Receipts."

Measures are established for the control of the budget and expenditures. For example, quarterly allocation of funds in principal budget allocations, use of purchase orders, daily time reports, monthly financial statements, periodic audit of accounts, and periodic measurement of work accomplished. Proposals for new areas and facilities take into consideration the future expenditures necessary for their maintenance and operation.

Annual audits are made of the Recreation Department as an aid to improve administration. To this end, better procedures and controls may be established which enable the department to operate more efficiently.

Sound principles of business management permeate all the components of recreation administration, and matters of business management, clearly conceived, simply planned and effectively done result in a great difference in the quality and productivity of the department. The spread and range of considerations related to business management are wide and varied. For example: office location and arrangement, office communications, correspondence, mailing, forms, manuals, use of telephones and office routines.

Next week we shall discuss the evaluation procedures of the Menlo Park Recreation Department.

Wanted: One Slim Trim Instructor

Menlo Park Recreation Department has announced that an instructor is needed to conduct the Department's newly-organized Slim Trim class.

This class consists of approximately 28 women who participate in volleyball, basketball, badminton, tennis, bowling, kickball, jump rope, golf and other sports activities.

The instructor for this class must have some physical education skills and experience in teaching sports to adults and children. A background of basic gymnastics also would be helpful.

The class meets Monday mornings, 9:10-10:30, and on other days decided on by the class for special activities.

Salary is $2 per hour. Applications should be made to the Recreation Department, DA 5-3211, ext. 5, for appointment for interview. Further information is available from Miss Doris Kogler, supervisor of playgrounds and special events at the same number.

There's an old garden adage that to be kind to fuchsias you have to be ruthless. Like roses, they bloom only on new wood and the idea in pruning is to remove old wood so the proportion of new wood to the plant is high.

WEED CONTROL

Weed control in the garden becomes more scientific by the month. You can buy controls for crab grass and selective controls for Bermuda grass. Latest is a chemical that can safely be used around and under growing things. It is taboo only for seeds that are or will be sprouting in the soil.

Valuable for Children:

Red Cross Swim Lessons at RHS Pool to Begin Saturday

For 10 consecutive Saturdays beginning March 19, swimming classes will be offered at the Ravenswood high school pool sponsored by the Sequoia region of the Golden Gate American Red Cross chapter and the Sequoia union high school district.

The spring swim program is especially valuable for children who wish to acquire swimming skills by vacation time, Red Cross officials pointed out. The summer swim program will begin at Ravenswood high school pool on June 20.

For the spring program, applicants must measure at least 42 inches from toe to chin. Classes will be offered every half hour, 9:30 a.m. through 12:30 p.m. on Saturday mornings for beginner, intermediates and swimmers. Life saving will be offered from 1:30 to 3 p.m. The classes will run from March 19 through May 21.

Applications, available at all schools, may be mailed or brought in person to regional headquarters, American Red Cross, 3540 Middlefield road, Menlo Park. The pool registration fee of $2.50, payable to the Sequoia union high school district, is used to help defray the expense of pool operation.

Preference as to class period will be on a "first come, first served" basis. Those wishing additional information may call Red Cross headquarters, EM 6-3851, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Signups Underway For Girls' Softball

Girls' sixth, seventh and eighth grade softball teams are being formed at city playgrounds this week by Menlo Park Recreation Department recreation directors.

Girls wishing to participate in softball games may inquire at the nearest playground about practice dates.

Playground directors are on duty from 3-5 p.m. daily. They are: Lois Cinquini, Willow Oaks Park; Sheila Dutton, Encinal School; Rod Daly, Hillview School; Kathy Watson, Oak Knoll School; Marjorie Waite, Las Lomitas School.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Recreation Department, DA 5-3211, ext. 5.

GARDENER'S CHECKLIST

1. Wise rosarians will be out these days watching new growth in the rose garden. Aphids are the main thing to look for. Shoot them down before they get a foothold.
2. Feeding Camellias is a post-bloom item on your gardener's checklist. Liquid fish and an acid-type commercial fertilizer and iron chaelates are all used.
3. Weed flower beds to conserve moisture and preserve appearance.
4. Feed lawns under trees an extra helping of food to help them overcome competition from the tree roots.
5. A container planting for the desk makes an unusual and welcome gift. They'll be at their best when the weather's best if you plant them now.

Retjo and Baller List Selections For Peninsula School Concert

Selections for their complete program have been announced by cellist Gabor Retjo and pianist Adolph Baller for the concert they will offer to a Peninsula audience tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Palo Alto High School auditorium.

Included in the program of chamber music are Bach's Sonata in G Major in four movements, the "Voice in the Wilderness" by Ernest Bloch, in six movements, Schubert's Sonata in A Minor (Arpeggione) in three movements, and the Sonata in E Minor, Opus 38, by Brahms, also in three movements.

This will be the fourth anal concert presented by these internationally acclaimed artists under the sponsorship of Menlo Park's parent-owned Peninsula School.

Tickets, both general and student admission (under 16), are available through Mrs. Lincoln Moses at UL 1-1214 or at the door the night of the concert.

Cast Complete for M-A's 'Brigadoon'

By NANCY HAWKINS

Final casting for the Menlo-Atherton High School spring student production was announced this week. "Brigadoon," the Broadway musical hit, will be the presentation on May 19, 20 and 21, sponsored by the Cultural Board.

Sue McClanahan was selected for the singing lead as Fiona MacLaren. The other girl singing parts will be filled by Judy Donavan as Jeanne and Anne Fullenwider as Meg. Carolyn Zahnd, Sheryle Dunn and Nancy Gray will be star dancers, with Bonnie Elton, Sharon Hatlett, Macy Ennis, Virginia Stapleton, Kit Fox, Sue Sleeper and Carol Dobbins as the dancing chorus.

Randy Heubach takes the male lead as Tommy Albright, with Ernie Bouskos as Jeff; Steve Ross, Andrew; Paul Dupont, Archie; Al Cassell, Harry; Bob Macri, Mr. Lundie; Bob Agrella, Charlie; Wes Fisher, Frank; Gary Thompson, Stuart; and Steve Beck, Sandy.

The scene will be in the Scottish Highlands and the play has an entertaining plot and a delightful musical score. Some of the familiar songs from "Brigadoon" are "It's Almost Like Being in Love," "Waitin' for My Dearie" and "Go Home With Bonnie Jean."

The singers and dancers will be accompanied by the piano playing of Don Cameron, Joe Martin, Pete Benjaminson and Kathy Grant. There also will be a large singing chorus.

Tabor Shines:

Trojans Slap Santa Clara 11-2 For Initial Varsity Victory

Jim Tabor sparked the Ravenswood High Trojans to their first varsity baseball victory of the 1960 season, crashing a triple and single and turning in a stint on the mound as the locals whipped Santa Clara 11-2 at the Mission City Friday afternoon.

The Trojans were aided by steady initial pitching by soph Arnold Wiley, who went the first three innings and gave up one of the two Santa Clara hits. Bob DeFillo and Tabor finished up the six-inning tilt, called because of darkness.

The game started late because of rain. When it finally got underway, the Trojans took advantage of Santa Clara pitching wildness to move ahead quickly. Tabor's second-inning triple, driving in a run, his single in the fourth and Jim Smith's first-inning solo bingle were the only Ravenswood hits, but they didn't need many.

Coach Tom Rivera liked Tabor's all-around work—at bat, with the glove at third base and on the hill. Jim Smith, back at first base, and catcher Kelly Kropp also turned in good games as did DeFillo at shortstop.

Fielding gem of the day was credited to Tabor in the middle innings. A trickler down the third base side brought him charging from the mound. He slipped on the wet grass, but picked up the ball and fired to first while on his knees to get the runner by a step.

Wiley, who's being brought along slowly by Rivera, will probably toss the first few innings against Mills High today when that team pays a visit to Ravenswood at 3:15 p.m.

VISITS WASHINGTON

Seth Armstrong of Atherton was a recent visitor at the Washington offices of Congressman J. Arthur Younger.

All-Star Game:

Johnson Chosen For Tilt

Earl Johnson, standout Ravenswood High football end, has been signally honored by the men who know Peninsula football best—the coaches.

Hes' been named to play in the 20-30 Club 1960 East-West football game in famed Kezar Stadium this summer.

Johnson, who was not informed of the honor before he read about it in today's newspapers, was one of four ends picked for the West team.

About 80 top players from San Francisco to San Jose were nominated for the squad — and 28 were picked, including the 6'1", 173-pound Trojan gridder.

Johnson, a defensive demon last season, will probably be destined for that kind of duty in the game.

'CONSISTANT'

Coach Howie Costello of the Trojans, who submitted Johnson's name, said Johnson was "a very consistant ball player."

Johnson's skill at crashing in from his defensive end spot was the reason he caught the eye of the selectors who placed him on the all-SPAL team.

"But he can play offense, too," Costello said. "I think this may possibly have been overlooked because we didn't have too much in the way of overall offense last year."

"Johnson likes the game," Costello concluded. "I wish we had 15 more like him."

Hunter Safety Course Final Signups Due

About half the expected number of students has signed up so far for what is possibly the last state-sponsored hunter safety course to be held in Menlo Park until late fall, according to instructor Ben Shade.

The four-day course has been filled in the past and this one probably will be also by the time registration closes next Friday, March 25, Shade said.

The class is open to all residents of Menlo Park, East Palo Alto, Belle Haven and Atherton. Much of the enrollment has been by entire families, scout troops and other organizations.

Two evening lecture sessions in the green room of the Menlo Park Civic Center will begin the course Thursday, March 31, and Friday, April 1.

Range firing and demonstrations will be held Saturday, April 2, at the Stanford rifle range and final demonstrations and graduation ceremonies will be on Friday evening, April 8.

This course, designed by the Fish and Game Commission to teach proper hunting procedures while in the field, is said to be beneficial to adult hunters. It is an absolute must for juniors under 16 years old, who must have a certificate of competence gained through this instruction in order to obtain a hunting license.

Fish and game laws, camp fires, camping firearms, first aid and all phases of forestry will be covered.

State certificates of competence will be awarded those who complete the course. Graduates also will receive basic rifle competence certificates from the National Rifle Association. Boy Scouts also earn their marksmanship merit badges here, Shade added.

Before registration is completed, a card good for a free eye exemination must be obtained from and returned to Shade by March 25.

Red Cross Swim Classes Begin Soon

A course for Water Safety Instructors scheduled for April by Sequoia Region of American Red Cross is to be preceded by a Senior Life Saving course beginning March 21, primarily for those wishing to take the April classes and who do not hold a current Senior Life Saving certificate.

Frank Hannig, Water Safety chairman, has announced that the 18-hour senior life saving course will be held at Woodside High School pool on the evenings of March 21, 23, 24, 28, 30 and 31 from 7-10 p.m.

The instructor is Gail Sterling of Redwood City. Those enrolling must be at least 18 years old, with proof of age required. For the first session, March 21, registrants will report to Room F-I. Enrollees may contact Regional headquarters, 3540 Middlefield road in Menlo Park, EM 6-3851.

St. Francis Is Host:

Freshman Baseball Squad Hits Diamond Today in First Game

Ravenswood High's frosh-soph team — with very few sophs on the roster—will tackle their first 1960 opponents this afternoon.

The festivities for Coach Mike Cohen's horsehiders and the St. Francis High undergrads will get underway at 3:15 p.m. in Mountain View.

Because the varsity baseball squad has need of the school's sophomore athletes, Cohen has only two or three sophs on his squad—so it's really a freshman outfit.

Varsity coach Tom Rivera, hurting for chuckers because several boys he expected this season just weren't there, has had to call up promising Arnold Wiley, a sophomore.

Cohen, in turn, had to move Daniels, a fine shortstop to the mound.

But Mike has high hopes for Daniels. "He should make a good thrower," Cohen said.

Available for relief duty are Tate, Raybon and Bordenave. Raybon, a top football and basketball player in his first year at Ravenswood, may become the powerman for the frosh squad — although he, and the rest of the team — need work on timing at the plate.

Raybon hits rockets when he gets the wood on the ball, however. Top man at the plate in practice so far has been Johnson, with Daniels, Tate and Bordenave also making with the base hits.

In reserve are Bill Gleaves, Richard Raw, Cliff Grandy, Jerry Lewis and Steve Brownell.

In the field, the big surprise has been the work of Sakamoto at third base. He's been using the glove well at the difficult position.

Comparing his group with other area high school frosh-soph teams, Cohen found the biggest difference not in ability, but in numbers.

Cohen said, however, that his boys "will play a lot of baseball this season, and have a lot of fun trying."

Another Record For Ann Warner

Menlo Park's 15-year-old Ann Warner set her third U. S. women's breaststroke record in three weeks Saturday, this one the 250-yard indoor event at the Far West Senior Invitational Swim Meet in Portland, Oregon.

Miss Warner set a new mark of 3:18.0 in the trials and then bettered it with a 3:17.8 in the finals, 1.8 below the 3:19.6 mark set by Patty Kempner of Sherman Oaks last year.

The two earlier marks were the 200-yard outdoor short and long course times of 2:36.3 and 3:39.1.

GOOD SHOT? THE U.S. OLYMPIC TEAM COULD USE YOU

Preliminary tryouts for California marksmen wishing to gain spots on the U.S. shooting team in this summer's Olympic Games in Rome will be held at Fort Ord April 20 21 and 22, according to Ben Shade, National Rifle Association training counselor for the Menlo Park area.

Shade said this week that he expected to send seven and possibly more shooters from Menlo Park, Atherton, East Palo Alto and Belle Haven to Fort Ord next month.

Processing applications will take about three weeks, so registration dealine is April 1, he pointed out. About 1500 shooters are expected to compete at Fort Ord.

"We'll get the shooters," Shade said this week, "but now we also need sponsors for this worthyhile project. The preliminary shooters at Fort Ord must furnish their own arms, ammunition and equipment, so they generally have a sponsor backing them up."

Shade added that inquiries about entries and sponsorship may be directed to him at 1052 Sonoma avenue, Menlo Park, DA 2-0590.

Any U.S. citizen may enter the competition. Official International Shooting Union regulations will prevail at all times. All competition from preliminaries to national finals will be divided into Small Bore and Large Bore divisions.

Rifle and Pistol competition will be featured in both divisions, with the Large Bore division also including Free Rifle and Military Rifle matches.

Those chosen at Fort Ord for the final tryouts will meet at the U.S. Army Infantry Center, Fort Benning Georgia, later on.

Use of the Fort Benning facilities, the most modern and complete in the U.S., is at the invitation of the Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit, Shade stated.

Shooters selected to form the U.S. Olympic shooting team will remain at Fort Benning for further training until their departure for the Games at Rome.

No Volleyball Next Wednesday

The Ravenswood Recreation and Park District has announced the adult mixed volleyball group which usually meets at Kavanaugh school on Wednesday evenings from 8-9:30 will not meet this next Wednesday.

The program resumes the following Wednesday. Any adult interested in playing is invited to come each Wednesday night.

...an owner of a business

If you own only one share of a corporation's stock, you have an interest in everything that company has—in its factories, raw materials, its earnings and reputation. Everything!

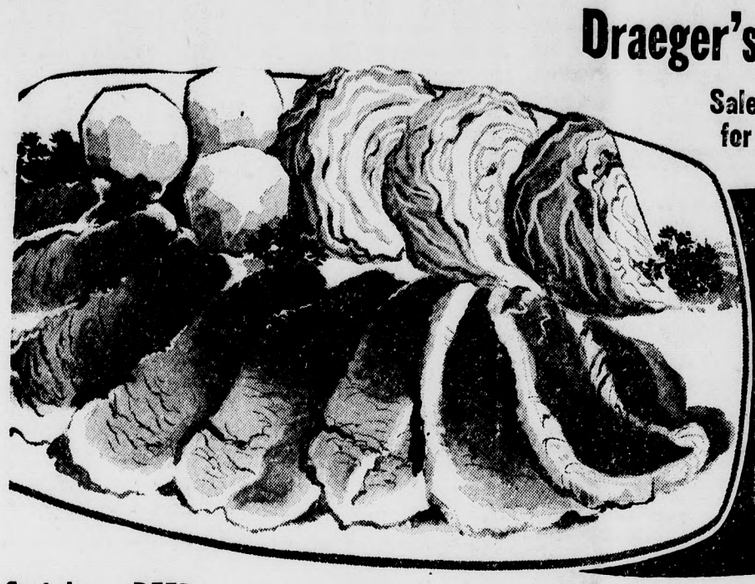

A single share of stock, or even 10 shares, may seem small. But the average stockholder in many of our biggest corporations owns no more than 40 to 50 shares.

Not "just any good stock" is the right one for you. The matter of wise selection is of first importance. Selection requires facts, facts indicating whether a stock is worth owning, meeting your needs, in terms of its record of returns.

And digging out information you want—before you buy any stock—is what we are here for. Ask us for them. Facts are supplied gladly. And at no charge or obligation.

Senior citizens in the area have been invited to show their talents in the seventh annual Senior Art, Craft and Hobby Show to be held at Little House from March 24 to 27.

Anyone over 50 years of age are eligible to submit entries, a spokesman for the Peninsula Volunteers, Inc., sponsors of the senior activity center, stated. A maximum of three entries may be submitted by one exhibitor in any one class, which includes watercolor and oil paintings, ceramics, crocheting, knitting leathercraft, metalcraft, modeling, mosaics, needlework.

Other classes in which items may be exhibited include photography, rugs, silk screen, textile painting, toys, weaving, woodcraft.

Entries which have been shown in previous Little House arts and srafts shows may be entered again in competition. Former prize winners and ribbon winners will be on display but will not compete for awards.

Cash prizes will be awarded the winners o fthe grand prize, to be the best item in the show, the second prize and the third prize. Ribbons will be given in each classification, first, second and honorable mention.

Entries will be accepted at Little House, 800 Middle avenue, Menlo Park, on Friday, March 18, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. They will also be accepted on Monday, March 21, during the same hours.

The hours for the show itself will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Cotillion Planned April 1

The last ball of the season for members of the Deep Peninsula Cotillions will be held on Friday, April 1, according ao Mrs. George Keller of Atherton, senior chairman.

The event will take place at tht Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church in Palo Alto.

"Tyrolean Tableau" has been determined as the theme for the final affair. Mrs. John H. Watt of Menlo Park will be in charge of decorations for the party, which will include a backdraop of an Alpine meadow carpeted with spring flowers.

Walls of the hall will depict the Vienna Woods, Hochosterwitz Castle and other Austrian landscapes.

Dinner tables will have centerpieces inspired by Alpine scenes and will be served by waiters in Tyrolean and Bavarian costumes.

Receiving the more than 200 guests expected to attend will be Mr. and Mrs. Keller and Mr. and Mrs. Dale S. Bowen. Among those assisting Mrs. Watt with the decorations are Mrs. Hall W. Montague, Mrs. James Brophy, Mrs. Wendell P. Dubbs, Mrs. L. A. Hallberg, Mrs. Malcolm McMillan, Mrs. Charles B. Nines, Mrs. Herbert Rogers, Mrs. Thomas J. Siebert and Mrs. Wilbur S. Wagstaff.

Preceding the Cotilion,, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Crisofi, Cotillion directors, will entertain the members of the Junior Cotillion committee who serve as hosts and hostesses. Vice chairman of the junior group is Richard Starkweather of Atherton and chairman is Peter Rumwell of Palo Alto.

Style Show Slated by Varianettes

"Dress Circle" has been chosen as the title for the luncheon and fashion show to be presented by the Varianettes on March 26 at the Los Altos Country Club. The affair has been timed for 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Arthur Rock of Menlo Park will be in charge of programs for the event and others assisting the chairman, Mrs. Arnold Wiltol, are Mrs. Edward Murphy, co-chairman Mrs. Martin Packard of Menlo Park, reservations; Mrs. Robert Brown, decorations; Mrs. Bernard Brown, gifts; Pauline Tras and Mrs. Edward Moran, publicity.

Proceeds from the affair will benefit the Santa Clara County Hospital geriatrics division.

Entertainment during the showing will be provided by Mrs. Louis Zitelli, soprano.

Award Winners . . .

. . . Mrs. Perry A. Watkins (left) and Mrs. George Perkins, (right) both of Menlo Park, look over the display of trophies awarded to Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club, of which they are members. Mrs. Watkins was named as "Homemaker of the Year" and Mrs. Perkins was given the honor of being named as "Citizen of the Year" by the local women's service organization. Mrs. Perkins is president of the club and Mrs. Watkins serves as vice-president and dean of chairmen.

Localite Also Named

Mrs. Parry A. Watkins Jr. of Menlo Park was named as "Homemaker of the Year" by members of the Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club at a recent meeting of the group.

Isabel is the first member of the club to receive the honor, the contest having been initiated among the state junior clubs last year. She received the honor on the basis of homemaking ability, personality, character and good grooming.

As winner in the local area, she will compete with winners of other CFWC junior membership clubs for the Pacifica district title to be announced in April.

Among Isabel's talents are those of cooking and sewing. She has been the club's winner in the Vogue sewing contest, sponsored by the CFWC, for the past two years.

Other interests include creative art and writing, and during the past year, she spent much of her time on redecorating projects, which include painting, wall papering, making slip covers ,upholstering and drapery making.

Flower arranging is another hobby of Mrs. Watkins and relates to her interest in gardening.

She is presently serving as vice president and dean of chairmen of the Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club and also assists with publicity for the group.

She is the mother of three children, Debbie, 8, Guy, 6, and David, 1½. She and her family are members of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church, where Isabel serves as secretary for the church school.

EVENING BRIDGE group o fthe Menertons will meet this evening at the home of Bette Post, 1280 Bellair way, Menlo Park, at 8 p.m.

M-A Juniors Elect:

Mrs. Perkins Is Citizen of Year

The Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club has announced the awarding of its annual "Citizen of the Year" honor to Mrs. George C. Perkins of Menlo Park.

The award automatically enters Mrs. Perkins in competition with winners from other clubs of the California Federation of Women's Club, Junior Membership, for the Pacifica District title to be determined in April.

Mrs. Robert Heen, Americanism chairman of the Menlo-Atherton club, presented the award to Mrs. Perkins at a recent meeting. Other members of the nominating committee were Mrs. Richard Starr, Mrs. Charles Linn and Mrs. Rolland Huffman.

Mrs. Perkins was chosen for the award on her merits as club member and homemaker as well as for valuable contributions to the community. She is presently serving as president of her club, and state "Build A Better Community" chairman for the California Juniors. She has been a member of the club for three and a half years and has served as both its publicity and international hostess chairman for a two-year period. Last year she served as press and communications chairman for Pacifica District and held the same chairmanship for the CFWC, Junior Membership.

Gretchen ,as president of the M-A Junior Women's Club, spearheads the activities of the group of young women in their effirts to "Build A Better Community." In her state chairmanship she acts as coordinator and liaison officer between the 229 clubs in the CFWC, Junior Membership, and the Sears Roebuck Foundation who co-sponsors the BABC contest, awarding over $4000 in prize money to the winning clubs. She is already in the midst of plans for the awards banquet at the CFWC state convention to be held in Los Angeles in May.

In addition to these activities, Mrs. Perkins provides transportation to the Nursery School twice a week for a mentally retarded child, assists occasionally with the UVS fashion shows, and is on the substitute list for volunteer work at the Stanford International Center and the Volunteer Swim School for the Handicapped Children in San Carlos. She attends the Menlo Park Trinity Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Perkins has taken an active interest in community affairs, and was instrumental in promoting the Menlo-Atherton club's participation in projects for the benefit of the Stanford International Center.

She has also participated in school and Brownie Scout activities with her eight-year-old daughter, Kathie, who is a third grader at Hillview School.

In addition, Mrs. Perkins has an active five-year-old son, Robbie, whose home activities receive much of her time.

These activities include decorating, furniture refinishing, sewing and cooking.

Music is also one of Mrs. Perkins' personal interests, she having graduated as a music major from Washington State University.

Music to be Topic at PTA Meeting

Norman Cory, director of music of the Menlo Park School District, will be guest speaker at the Fremont Eelementary School PTA meeting this evening at 8 p.m. A portion of the all city advanced band will give a short concert.

Among the present and former Fremont students who will play are Nancy Wear, David Young, Judy Woollsey, David Iverson, Dick Rubin, Jay Frazer, David Young, Peter Quigley, Jay Bolton, Cynthia Howells, Linda Donovan, Kandace Esplund and Ellen Davis.

Mr. Cory will discuss the fture of music students after they leave elementary school. He will emphasize what music means to the child and how best to use and enjoy the musical knowledge gained in elementary school.

About 30 per cent of Fremont children participate in the school's instrumental music program. All students above the third grade are eligible.

A question and answer period will follow Mr. Cory's talk.

Doctors to Compete In Golf Tournament

A stay in southern California is on the agenda for two local couples. Spending this week in Palm Springs are Dr. and Mrs. William True of Menlo Park and Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Taano of Atherton.

The two local doctors will be playing in the Palm Springs Invitational Golf Tournament in the southern resort area.

Campus Chat Between Classes . . .

Susan Good Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Good Jr. of Atherton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Susan Wheeler Good, to James Castle Gaither, so nof Mr. and Mrs. R. Rowan Gaither II of San Francisco.

The troth and forthcoming wedding plans were announced to members of the immediate family and close friends at a buffet supper at the Good home in Atherton last Saturday evening.

Susan and Jim are planning to be married at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Menlo Park on April 30.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Castilleja School and Finch College in New York. During the past year she traveled in Europe and continued her studies in French at the University of Geneva in Switzerland.

Susan is the sister of Mrs. Thomas W. Wiley of Boston, Mass., Mrs. Oliver Greenlee of Piedmont, and Stannie Good, who is a student at Castilleja.

She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George N. Merritt of Woodland and the late Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Good Sr. of Ross.

The prospective bridegroom graduated from Exeter and Princeton University. While in college, he was a member of Tiger Inn. He is currently serving in the United States Marine Corps and will graduate next month from the Marine Officers Training School.

Jim is the brother of H. Rowan Gaither III and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. Rowan Gaither and Mr. and Mrs. James Blair Castle, all Piedmont residents.

Two Books On Program At Library

"As I Live and Breathe" by John Weaver and "Hard Hearts Are For Cabbages" by Vii Putnam will be the two books to be reviewed by Mrs. Ross Wilson on Thursday, March 24, at the Menlo Park Library.

The review will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Wilson is known in the area for her book reviews. Last year, she spoke on "Doctor Zhivago" at the local library. She was also organizing chairman in obtaining a charter to establish the Menlo-Atherton Branch of the American Association of University Women and a fellowship award was given in her name.

The Welcome Wagon Club will co-sponsor the meeting with the Friends of the Library. Mrs. W. B. Matlock will coordinate the arrangements with Mrs. William Gropp, first vice chairman of the Friends. Hostessing the coffee hour will be Mrs. Marie Mudra, local author.

Others assisting with plans for the joint meeting will be Mrs. A. J. Reis, Mrs. Betty Hayes, Mrs. Ralph Kimes, Mrs. George Shank and Mrs. George Collins.

Posters for the library have been provided by Suzanne Votaw, a high school volunteer.

The public is invited to atten dthe review and coffee hour. Coffee will be served at 10 a.m. and the program has been scheduled for 10:30 a.m. in the lounge of the library.

Tickets Available For Ball

Mrs. Winston C. Black and Mrs. Francis S. North, both of Atherton, will head the ticket sale campaign in the lower Peninsula area for the fifth annual Black and White Symphony Ball. The tickets are now on sale for the gala affair, which is staged each year at four leading hotels in San Francisco, in an effort to raise funds for the maintenance of the symphony.

Among those assisting Mrs. Black and Mrs. North are Mrs. W. Howard Boren of Atherton, Mrs. Roy L. Brandenberger of Menlo Park, Mrs. Douglas Carver of Woodside, Mrs. Sherman L. Crary of Woodside, Mrs. Ryland Kelley of Menlo Park, Mrs. L. Polk Dodson Jr. and Mrs. Marshal Hale Fisher of Woodside, Mrs. Marron Kendrick, Mrs. John H. McDaniels, Mrs. Donald F. Ross, Mrs. Frederick M. Sherman, Mrs. Herman A. Zischke, all of Atherton.

Each hotel will be decorated in its own particular motif and different dance tempos will highlight each locale. Those attending may remain at one hotel, or "make the rounds" by means of the gaily decorated shuttle buses, which are included in the ticket price.

In keeping with the theme of "Black and White," women traditionally wear black, white or a combination of both, and men don "black tie."

The fund - raising event is presented annually by the San Francisco Symphony Association, which manages, maintains and presents the Symphony Orchestra, to benefit the Orchestra's current operating expenses.

Museum Show Slated

Mrs. Mark Ryan of Atherton will be assisting with decoration arrangements for the third annual Decorator's Show House, sponsored by the San Mateo County Junior Museum Auxiliary.

Long a Peninsula landmark, this year's house of English Tudor architecture is located in Hillsborough and is being loaned to the Auxiliary by its present owner, Mrs. Carol Stanford.

The benefit will be opened by an invitational champagne preview on Saturday, April 23, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. The house will then remain open daily for three weeks through May 15 from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

As in past years, Bay Area decorators, 23 in all, will redecorate and refurbish the rooms of the old mansion displaying decor ranging from an ultra-modern kitchen and family room to a Victorian ballroom. All three floors of the house will be decorated.

The house was originally built by George Newhall Sr. in the early part of the century and was an authentic reproduction of the houses at Stratford-on-Avon, England. In 1927 it was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Howard "Spreckles and has come to be known to Hillsborough residents as the "Spreckles House." During the war years it passed into ownership of Mr. and Mrs. George Kammerer, who in turn loaned it to the Navy stationed at Tanforan for use as an officer's club. Recently, the Kammerers sold part of the property to Mrs. Stanford and built their own modern house on adjoining land.

The new Naturemobile, purchased by proceeds from last year's Show House, will be parked outside the house for the three-week period in order that the public may view it.

The Auxiliary plans to use the proceeds from this year's Show House for a conveyance for the mobile museum as well as for salary for a trained driver-instructor, equipment, and a maintenance fund. The Naturemobile is the only privately endowed Junior mobile unit in the United States.

Opening night invitations and daily tickets are available to the public and may be obtained by contacting any auxiliary member or Mrs. Thomas Rapp, DA 5-0697.

ENTERED IN CONTEST

Miss Dale Silver of Atherton has been selected as a contestant in the annual "Queen Esther" contest for Temple Beth Jacob's Purim ball, to be held this year on Saturday evening, March 19. Miss Silver represents the Mogen David chapter of B'nai B'rith girls.

A Happy Life Together . . .

. . . For 60 years, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio M. Bumbaca have made their lives together—in Italy, in Wyoming and Montana at the turn of the century, and now in East Palo Alto. They celebrated their anniversary last week.

Lived in 'Wild West':

Couple Celebrates 60th Anniversary

Work together in every way and you'll get along: that's the advice given by Antonio M. Bumbaca, 85, and his wife, Maria Carmella, 77, who last week celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Theirs is a story of a couple who married in Italy and came to America when sections of the West were still wild, lived in Wyoming and Montana and raised eight children before moving to East Palo Alto.

They were married in Cirello, Italy, in 1900. In the same year, they came to America, settling in Youngstown, Ohio. In 1903, they moved on to Wyoming and in 1917 went to Montana. They lived there until 1943 and then moved here, where they now reside at 2183 Lincoln avenue.

Bumbaca, known familiarly as Mike, first worked in coal mines and later operated his own grocery store in Montana before retiring.

Mrs. Bumbaca recalls spending most of her time making bread—50 loaves a week—and washing on her scrub board, which she still owns as a souvenier.

The Bumbaca family is now spread over several states, but efforts are being made to bring some of them together for a celebration with their parents.

They are Rocco Bumbaca, Santa Clara; Mrs. Mary Parmeter, Puyallup, Wash.; Annie Bumbaca, Kennewick, Wash.; Michael Bumbaca, Boulder Creek; Mrs. Rosie Woodall, Kennewick, Wash.; Dominic Bumbaca, Deker, Mont.; Mrs. Lucyle Larson of Washington, and James Bumbaca, Deker, Mont.

The Bumbacas are the grandparents of 14 children and the proud greatgrandparents of 14 children.

Bumbaca now spends his leisure time in his vegetable garden in front of his modest home on Lincoln avenue. He's grown almost every kind of vegetable there and is always available to offer advice on gardening.

High School PTA Needs Rummage Items for Sale

With the Ravenswood High PTA rummage sale date approaching, members of the committee in charge of collecting items are asking that persons with clothes, shoes, hats and purses not now being used telephone them for pickup service.

Five PTA women can be telephoned to arrange collection of items. They are Mrs. James Sossaman, Davenport 5-2448; Mrs. T. R. McMillan, Davenport 2-6447; Mrs. William Alex, Davenport 5-2793; Mrs. Richard Larned, Davenport 2-5679, or Mrs. Judson Cogger, Davenport 2-9484.

Second Son for O'Connor Teacher

The fourth child for Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd V. Rogers, 1042 Oakland avenue, Menlo Park, arrived at 9 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 26, at Sequoia Hospital. John Andrew Rogers tipped the scales at six pounds, 11 ounces.

Rogers, who is a teacher at O'Connor School, and his wife have three other children, Paul, Mark, and Lorraine.

Brentwood PTA Prexy Has Son

Mrs. Clarence Noyer, president of Brentwood School PTA, brought another potential Brentwood student home from the hospital recently.

Christopher Harris Noyer, who weighed seven pounds, 11 ounces, was born Sunday, Jan. 24, at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital. He's the first son for the Noyers, who have four daughters. The young ladies are Victoria, 8; Pamela, 6; Lise, 4, and Amy, 2.

Mrs. Floyd D. Newell, Mrs. Noyer's mother, was here from Rochester, N.Y., for several weeks. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noyer of Roseburg, Oregon.

Auxiliary Purchases Hospital Equipment

Sequoia Hospital Auxiliary is undertaking purchase of equipment for a new special patient care area at the Redwood City institution, as a major project for 1960.

They will provide $7635 for cost of equipment and the hospital will purchase bed units for an estimated $7500.

Max Gerfen, hospital administrator, provided the following background for the new unit, which he said is expected to go into operation in the middle of February:

Purpose of the special unit will be to provide constant expert nursing care to the seriously ill patient, or to those patients requiring constant observation and care.

Some of the typical cases which would be included are acute cardiac conditions, severe asthma, diabetic coma, massive bleeding, serious injuries or burns, shock, acute abdominal cases and pulmonary troubles.

The unit will be under the general supervision of Miss Nora Stratemeyer, surgical floor supervisor. Directly in charge will be Miss Joanne Leighty, assisted by 18 registered nurses and one licensed vocational nurse.

This staffing pattern will permit two nurses to be in constant attendance in each of the five bed units.

Decision as to whether a patient requires the special care will be made by the attending physician. He will also decide when the patient may be transferred to the normal bed areas of the hospital.

Gerfen said that increased efficiency and better care will result by concentrating critical patients in the specially constructed intensive care unit.

It will include piped oxygen and suction to each bed, emergency sets and trays to serve patients, breathing assistors and respirators in each room, oxygen tents, suction pumps, special heart monitors, and a special machine to observe the heart and lungs.

The unit, Gerfen said, should be more economical to those patients who may not be able to afford private duty nurses. At present, the minimum cost for a critical case with 24-hour private duty nurses would be $76.50 for district residents.

By grouping them in the unit, the cost will be $1.75 an hour — or $42 a day, Gerfen said.

Because of the intensive care required, there will not be room for radios, television sets, flowers or other items other than patient care equipment.

Visitors will be permitted on a selective basis, with a visiting room adjacent to the area to be provided. Only brief visits, unless special circumstances arise, will be provided because of the serious condition of the patients.

The new facility is being developed by cooperative planning between the medical staff, the district board of directors and the hospital staff.

Dinner Dance Held By Club Members

The Palo Alto Hills Golf & Country Club dinner-dance committee met recently for a luncheon meeting at Rickey's Studio Inn.

Serving as dinner-dance chairman is Mrs. P. J. Gartly and co-chairman is Mrs. Richarda T. Johnson. Assisting will be Mrs. A. Douglas Hird of Atherton, ticket chairman, and Mrs. John E. Hawkins of Atherton is co-chairman. Decorations chairman is Mrs. Carl K. Revelle of Menlo Park; hospitality chairman, Mrs. David B. Sweeney of Menlo Park, and publicity chairman, Mrs. Franklin M. Warden of Atherton.

The dinner-dance is to be held March 26 at the San Mateo Elks Club. Cocktail hour is at 6 p.m. and dinner will be served at 8 p.m. Johnny Vaughn's orchestra will furnish the dance music.

ON HONOR ROLL

Joanne Susan Flow of Menlo Park, currently a student at the University of Oklahoma, has been named to the honor roll at that institution on the basis of fall semester grades, it was announced this week.

Localites At Convention

Two local residents are included in the Gaspar de Portola Chapter delegation to the state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution now in progress in Los Angeles.

Attending the 52nd annual conclave are Mrs. P. D. Ackerman and Mrs. Fred Kamphoefner, both of Menlo Park. Mrs. Louise M. Rankin, former Menlo Park resident, regent of the chapter, heads the local delegation.

Mrs. Kamphoefner is attending the convention as chapter registrar and Mrs. Ackerman is an alternate delegate from the local group.

Homemaker Art . . .

. . . Camp Fire Girl Laurie Egeberg of Menlo Park, dressed in modern day Camp fire Girl uniform, explains to Mrs. K. E. Parker, a resident of Woodside, the techniques of setting a dining table as learned in her Camp Fire Girl activity. The course is regularly taught to all members of the girl's organization a spreparation for homemaking ability during their lives. Mrs. Parker was a member of the first board of directors of the Camp Fire Girls council in San Mateo county. During the past five years the United Crusade agency has grown from one group to a total of 149 groups and is continuing to increase.

Second Child For Walkers

William C. Walker of 720 Schembri lane, East Palo Alto, who recently received his degree from San Jose State College, received the best kind of graduation present from his wife on Tuesday, Feb. 16.

It was a daughter, Joanne Lynne, who weighed eight pounds, 11 ounces. Joanne has one brother, Robert, 14 months Grandparents are Joseph Kovas of Palo Alto and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Walker of Menlo Park. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cox of Palo Alto are Joanne's great-grandparents.

It's In the Family . . .

. . . Mrs. Margaret Cochrane, Costano PTA's honorary life membership winner for 1960, is just the third person in her family to win such an award. Both parents, who are former teachers, have also received life memberships in other districts.

PTA Honors Trustee

Mrs. Margaret Cochrane, Ravenswood City School District trustee and former Costano School PTA president, was the recipient recently of the PTA unit's 1960 honorary life membership.

Mrs. Cochrane, who has been connected with many education and community projects, accepted the award at the Founder's Day meeting of the Costano PTA at which new officers were also installed.

Mrs. Cochrane, wife of Roy Cochrane, an engineer with the state division of highways in San Francisco, has been a school district trustee since 1958. The Cochranes and their family reside at 2789 Hunter street, University Village.

Her interest in community and school district afafirs has extended through terms of office with the Costano PTA, including the presidency in 1957-58, service in Ravenswood and Sequoia district bond election campaigns, and membership in the University Village Homes Association.

She also was a member of the group which studied revisions in district grading systems several years ago. And she presently holds membership on the Sequoia high school district Citizen's Committee.

Another duty Mrs. Cochrane is now performing is service on the augmented school redistricting committee for Sequoia district. She's the Ravenswood district board representative.

In addition to her service in education, Mrs. Cochrane is active in Palo Alto Baptist Church work, including membership in the choir.

Her husband presently is advisor to Explorer Post 118 and Mrs. Cochrane has also aided in Scout work as a Den Mother for Pack 118 in past years.

Costano PTA officers for 1960 were also seated during the recent meeting.

They are Mrs. Louis Figone, president; Mrs. Ronald Marcus, vice president; Glendon McFate, honorary vice president; Mrs. Jack Bradshaw, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Harris, corresponding secretary; John DuKacz, treasurer; William Rybinsky, auditor; Mrs. Knox Ferrin, historian, and Mrs. John Urban, parliamentarian.

PTA members also decided to hold the 1959 funds raised for school projects through 1960 so that enough money to buy blackout curtains for one classroom can be accumulated.

PTA Slates Panel on Reading

A panel discussion on "Success in Reading—Forever the Key," will be heard by members of Hillview School PTA when they meet for luncheon on Wednesday, March 23.

The meeting will take place in the multi-purpose room at the school at 1:15 p.m.

During the meeting, methods of teaching reading at different grade levels will be discussed, an dan election of officers for the coming year will be held following the program scheduled.

Hostesses will be the third-grade room mothers, Mrs. Robert Akins and Mrs. Robert Heen.

The flag salute will be given by Linda Cahn, Jam Johnston, Jane Mills and Patty Wagner, members of Girl Scout Troop 408.

Localite is Officer of AOPI Unit

Barbara Hamm of Menlo Park was among those to be installed as officers of the Alpha Omicron Pi alumnae group's evening section. She will serve as secretary-treasurer for the women's organization.

Other officers tapped to serve include Mrs. Anthony Poso, president; Mrs. James McInaney, as her assistant.

Among the duties for the new officers will be the forthcoming Camellia Luncheon, to be sponsored by the group on March 29.

Installation ceermonies took place at the Los Altos home of Mrs. Gene W. Tye last week.

Fourth Son for E.P.A. Parents

David George Harrell was born Tuesday, Feb. 9, in Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital, the fourth son for Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harrell, 1415 Kavanaugh Drive, East Palo Alto.

He tipped the scales at six pounds, seven ounces. Welcoming their new brother home were Randy, 4½, Larry, 2, and Kenny, 11 months.

Furs or Ice Skates: Want Ads Sell All

"We always get such wonderful results with your paper!"

This comment, from Mrs. S.L. of Atherton, was just one of many similar statements from pleased users of the Want Ads who this week reported they had sold all the items they advertised in last Thursday's combined Want Ad section of the Menlo Park Recorder, Ravenswood Post and Mid-Peninsula Buy Word.

Among the items Mrs. S.L. sold were a "power mower w/ seat; dbl. stroller; bassinet; elec. hair clippers; boys' ice skates, rugs . . ."

And meanwhile Mrs. R.V.L. of Menlo Park was selling her stone marten fur scarf; Mrs. A.M. of Atherton was selling her Relaxicizer; L.D.M. of Menlo Park was selling his adding machine, and E.I. of Palo Alto was selling the desk and chair, the painted chest, the book case, the washing machine and small sewing cabinet all listed last week under "Miscellaneous for Sale."

And thus it goes every Thursday as the three local papers go into the homes of more than 20,000 local area residents.

You, too, can find out how easy it is to sell unwanted items through the Want Ads—or to find work or help, or to rent or buy particular items.

And the cost of sending your message into those 20,000 homes — all right nearby for fast action—is only 50 cents a line (minimum charge $1).

To place your fast-acting Want Ad, phone DA 6-5580 before Tuesday noon. A courteous and experienced ad-taker will be glad to help you phrase your message for best results.

Chi Omegas To Honor Founders

Named as chairman for the annual Founder's Day luncheon to be held by members of the Bay Area Alumnae of Chi Omega was Mrs. James Sawtell of Atherton. The event will be staged at the California Country Club in South San San Francisco on April 2.

All Chi Omegas in the area are invited to attend. Reservations may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Nickle at DA 6-7069, before March 23.

Owners See Building as 'Sign of Faith'

Grand opening of Menlo Park's newest store and office building, the Feve building at 711-715 Santa Cruz avenue, will eb observed this weekend.

The $110,000, two-story structure, featuring the most modern construction materials and techniques, encompasses some 10,000 square feet of floor space in its modernistically-designed interior.

Outside, its designers have made extensive use of glass and aluminum, to impart an aspect of spacious contemporary design.

The building was constructed by Henry Knutzen Sons' Co.. Menlo Park contractors. Simpson and Stratta of San Francisco were the designers.

The building is owned by a partnership composed of Carl and Heota Feldman and the Vela Corporation, operated by Albert J. Giannotti and Everett L. Fallis. It is to be known as the Feve building, a combinations of the names of its owners.

"We've been told that the building is of a 'metropolitan' style," one of the owners said this week, "but the money and thought which we have expended in designing it is, actually, more a reflection of our faith in the future of the business community here than as a present investment.

New Shoe Store Knows Needs of Suburbanites

Bringing to Menlo Park expert knowledge of the styles of shoes popular in a suburban community, the Rancho Shoe Store notes its official grand opening at 711 Santa Cruz avenue this weekend.

Owner Fred O. Weidemann has operated in the Rancho shopping center in Los Altos since 1956. "The experience gained in that community, which consists of dealing with the problems of growing families and with providing footwear for families that spend much time out of doors, will be one of the store's primary assets here," Weidemann said.

On the staff of the new store—the second to be opened by the firm—will be Ernie Brazil, manager, and John Burke, both local residents and both men with many years of experience in the shoe business on the Peninsula.

Weidemann said he selected this community for his second store because the community always has impressed him as one in which quality merchandise was the first consideration of patrons as well as merchants, and because he foresaw a prosperous business future for the town.

Free prizes will be awarded at a drawing set for 4:30 p.m. Saturday, as the end of the Grand Opening weekend draws near.

There is no obligation, residents who want to visit the store any time during the three-day gala may register for the drawing.

Beauty Salon Triples Space in New Quarters

New chapter in the success story of a local business is being written this week, with grand opening of a new location for the Bonnie Lassie beauty salon, at 715 Santa Cruz avenue.

Owner James Blackman, who opened his first Menlo Park shop in 1955, has moved to the new Feve building to acquire three times as much floor space as was available in his previous location, in order to accommodate a growing staff and clientele.

"The staff has grown from one to 12 during the past five years and we feel that, with our knowledge of beauty problems and with the all-new equipment we have installed, service and results will be maintained at the same standards possible when the shop was much smaller, years ago," he said.

New services and new facilities will also be added, Blackman announced. These will include a gift department and jewelry counter and a color styling and consultant service. Miss Marty Shull will be in charge of the latter.

Three permanents will be given away as free prizes, following a Saturday afternoon drawing for which members of the community may register without obligation.

EVENING BRIDGE section one of AAUW will gather at the home of Mrs. S. A. Megeath on March 21 at 8 p.m. Mrs. Lewis Southern is chairman of the section.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS section of AAUW will meet on March 20 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Whitehill.

ITALIAN group of AAUW will meet on Monday, March 21, at the home of Mrs. Herman Chenowitz, 127 Hedge road, Menlo Park. Those interested may call DA 6-2581.

Alums Give Luncheon

Mrs. Edward K. Proctor Jr. of Menlo Park was among those assisting with arrangements for yesterday's luncheon for members of the Peninsula Smith College Club.

The group met to honor President Mendenhall of the eastern college when he gathered with principals and college advisors of secondary schools in the area. Locale for the affair was the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall in Palo Alto.

Sabbath Set By Jewish Councilwomen

Mrs. Edwin Tishler, president of the Southern Branch of the Peninsula Section, National Council of Jewish Women, has announced a Council Sabbath to be held at Temple Beth Jacob in Redwood City tomorrow evening at 8:30 p.m.

Rabbi Herbert D. Teitelbaum will speak on the Council's program.

Among the Council members participating in the services and acting as hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Mike Guerney, California Peninsula prtsident; Mrs. Walter Hertzmann, Mrs. Ferdinand Hershfield, Mrs. Elliott Polinger, Mrs. Lloyd Volpe, Mrs. Edward Weinberger, Mrs. Arnold Fehl, Mrs. Henry Slager and Mrs. Herman Lubfin.

A reception has been scheduled to follow the services.

At the home of Mrs. Isadore Thompson in Atherton on Wednesday, March 23, a business meeting and dessert will be held. Sepakers of the day will be Mrs. Daniel Stone of Homewood Terrace, who will explain the need for foster homes, and Mrs. Sylvan Lisberger of San Francisco.

Mrs. Ruth Heineman is chairman of the affair. All members and friends are invited to attend.

Sigma Kappas Set Auctions As Benefits

"Fun for Philanthropy" will be the theme for two Sigma Kappa alumnae meetings.

Members of the afternoon group will hold a "white elephant" auction at the home of Mrs. Oscar Sette, 23645 Arbor avenue, Los Altos, this afternoon at 1 p.m.

The evening group will gather for a similar sale at the home of Mrs. Ivan Rusch, 501 Patrick way, Los Altos, on Monday evening, March 21, at 8 p.m.

Proceeds from the two events will benefit Ward 64 at Agnews State Hospital and Maine Seacoast Mission at Bar Harbor, Maine.

Among those from the local area planning to attend the affairs will be Mrs. Louis T. Long of Menlo Park, Mrs. William Herbert Carr, Mrs. A. L. Stolp and Mrs. Wayne Prim, all of Atherton.

All Sigma Kappas in the area are invited to attend either meeting.

Girl Scouts Fete Fathers at Dinner

An "International" father-daughter dinner was held last Saturday evening by members of Intermediate Girl Scout troop of Hillview School in Menlo Park. The event was held at the home of Susan Stern in Atherton.

Members of the troop prepared the food for the affair, completing their requirements for the cooking badge.

The "International" theme was carried out in invitations, name tags, place cards, decorations and the menu. The "u"-shaped table was decorated with international flags with ivy and white flowers as centerpieces.

Sixth and seventh graders, working on their dramatics bodge, presented the program. A demonstration of choral speaking and pantomine was given and a folk dance presented by the fifth grade members.

Among the troop members are Lindsay Ade, Penny Akins, Janet Borden, Jan Chernick, Jeannine Conner, Lucy Dangler, Barbara Garrett, Janet Giske, Janet Hanberry, Lunn Hanberry, Linda Hubbard, Kathleen Johnson, Susan Mears, Barbara Poore, Marilyn Richert, Susan Stern, Michelle Uppman, Barbara Wheeler, Kathy Norback, and Beth Roberts.

Leader of the troop is Mrs. T. N. Poore and Mrs. John Richert and Mrs. Ben Johnson are co-leaders.
